MEN FAVOR STRIKE, IS REPORT

Machinists' Union Will Support Demands Made by Federation of Shopmen

No Move to Walk Out Until After Leaders Confer With Kruttschnitt

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—The local machinists' union has resolved to support the demands made upon the Harriman lines by the Federation of Shop Employees now asking for recognition by the company.

This decision was reached last night according to President E. L. Reguin of the federation, who said a tentative strike vote was taken. The men, he said, were unanimous in their demands and otherwise the situation was reported to be quiet.

The federation is awaiting the arrival from the east of the officers of the international union representing the five crafts working in the shops. These officers are expected here tomorrow afternoon. Their conference with Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president of the Harriman lines, will be held on Thursday. They will then demand that the new federation be recognized officially.

81,000 DROPPED IN YEAR.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Following a plan of retrenchment, railroads of the country in the last year laid off $1,870 men, effecting a net annual saving in operating expenses of $94,000,000, according to a report made public today. This method of economy in operation has been adopted by sixty per cent of all the roads and is rapidly spreading to the remaining lines.

The decrease in expenditures and maintenance is said to be the result of the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which refused to allow the roads to put into effect a general increase of freight rates. The largest reductions in the forces are found among the trackmen, shopmen and miscellaneous employees.

The report containing these figures may, it is said, have an important bearing on the widespread unrest existing in the ranks of the shopmen on the Harriman lines. That the dispute with the shopmen on the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Illinois Central and other lines may extend to other railway systems was indicated today when shopmen employed by the Chicago and Northwestern road are reported to have given notice that with the expiration of the present wage agreement next month an increase of salary will be demanded.

Officials of the Chicago and Northwestern road declined to discuss the subject today.

After a day of secret conferences, the Schooner Aurelia Ashore; Crew of Twelve in Danger

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 29.—The steam schooner Aurelia, from San Francisco, went ashore last night off the Columbia River jetty, and now lies in a perilous position, with tugs and life-boats hovering as near possible in an effort to save the crew of twelve men. Owing to the heavy sea which is running, and the breakers in the shallow water where the Aurelia lies, it has been impossible for the life-savers to get within half a mile of the stranded vessel. An effort will be made later in the day to rig a breeches buoy and take the men off in that way, unless the craft goes to pieces in the meantime. The twelve men on board are in imminent danger, and the life-savers are making every effort possible to reach the wrecked vessel.

The Aurelia is owned by Tower Brothers of San Francisco. She is a vessel of 850 tons and is lumber laden, sailing from the Golden Gate on August 25. She is under the command of Captain Webber, a well known skipper.

Congressman Knowland Due Here Next Friday

ALAMEDA, Aug. 29.—Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, who was expected to arrive home from Washington yesterday, will not arrive before Friday. A telegram was received at his home here early yesterday to the effect that he had been delayed and would not return until the latter date.

TAX RATE IS FIXED AT $1.98

Commissioner Anderson Makes Vigorous Protest and Votes Emphatic No

Declares That the Total Estimates Are Too High by at Least $100,000

In formally passing the ordinance to print establishing the tax rate for the current fiscal year at $1.98, the city councilmen engaged in a wordy battle at the special session last night when Commissioner Harry S. Anderson refused to vote in favor of this rate, on the ground that he believed that at least $100,000 could be clipped from the department estimates in addition to the cuts already made.

The ordinance was given its first and second reading before the council last night and passed to print by the vote of Councilmen W. J. Bacon, John Forrester, F. C. Turner and Mayor Frank K. Mott. Councilman Anderson voting against the measure. The measure will be finally passed Tuesday, September 4, in accordance with the provisions of the new charter.

THE RATE IS $1.98.

The rate of $1.98 on the $100 assessed valuation is divided into the following classes:

For maintenance and betterments...$1.50
For bond interest and redemption...$.48
This rate will become operative immediately upon the final passage of the ordinance, and Assessor Edwin Meese will set the machinery in operation to collect the first installment. The taxes will commence to be available in the city treasury about the beginning of November, and the hardship under which the present council has been suffering through lack of funds will be lifted.

The first clash at the session of the council last night came when the budget was read, and the following explanation given by Mayor Frank K. Mott of the various items for the benefit of the committee from the Alameda County Taxpayers Association in the lobby.

OPPOSED BY ANDERSON.

"I have been going over the figures in this budget," said Harry S. Anderson, minority member of the council. "It seems to me that not all the items are justifiable. For instance, the salary roll alone in the street department totals the sum of $239,800. This seems an unusually high figure. The appropriation for the department is $400,000. I think that the engineer's office has too high an appropriation."

"With a salary roll like that I cannot see my way clear to voting for a $1.98 rate. It's too heavy a burden to place on the people. I think that a heavy cut should be made in that department."

"If you can show me where it can be cut without hurting the efficiency of the department," answered Commissioner of Streets W. J. Bacon, "I shall be glad to make the cut. I have to have suggestions and will be glad to get them. The great item in my department is for labor, and in the past year the street mileage has materially increased. I have 65 guttersmen, and 30 sprinkling carts included in that item. Would you have me lay these men off?"

"The appropriation for this department is just $12,000 over that of last year, and a portion of that is necessitated by the new charter, the salary of the superintendent of streets of $38,000 a year being added to my department."

"In the engineering department," said Councilman F. C. Turner, "formerly city

CITY CIVIL SERVICE BOARD

Mayor Mott Appoints B. F. Pendleton, H. S. Robinson and L. W. Cobbledick

Wide Discretionary Powers Are Conferred on Commission by the New Charter

Official announcement of the appointment of Ben H. Pendleton, Harrison S. Robinson and L. N. Cobbledick as the Civil Service Commission of the city of Oakland was made this morning by Mayor Frank K. Mott at the meeting of the city council and confirmed by that body. The appointments take effect at once, as today is the last day on which this action could be taken under the new charter by the Mayor.

Pendleton, who will probably be made president of the Civil Service board, is at present out of town, but immediately upon his return the board will organize, elect a president and appoint a clerk. Quarters for the board will be provided at the City Hall Annex at 1358 Broadway.

Next to the city council, the Civil Service board is probably the most powerful body created by the new charter. The commission has the power to classify and reclassify the various positions and employments under the city government, to provide for examinations to fill vacancies, to establish rules of promotion, rules for suspension and removal of officers in the police, fire and other departments, and of clerks and other employees, and to ratify or not all temporary appointments.

GIVEN LARGE POWERS.

The charter provides in the most general terms for the duties of the civil service board and gives that body large discretionary powers in creating a civil service system. Appointments are made by the mayor for two, four and six years, at the expiration of these terms new appointments being thereafter for six years. As a consequence the precedents to be established by the first board will be of lasting importance.

It was for this reason that Mayor Mott hesitated long in picking the men for the commission. The mayor desired to have a board that would fulfill the letter and spirit of the charter, in taking the municipal employment out of the hands of politics, and making the personnel of the city employees a self-respecting and efficient body of men.

The appointments this morning were as follows:

To serve until July 1, 1913, L. N. Cobbledick.

Senator Works Defines His Position on Recall

Says He Will Vote for Measure, Although Opposed to the Judiciary Plank.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Senator John G. Works, who in a letter last winter described the proposed judicial recall "as reform gone mad," confirmed today a statement credited to him that he would vote for the recall amendment at the coming special election, although it applies also to judges.

"I am still constitutionally opposed to the application of the recall to the judiciary," said the senator, "but I favor it in connection with other state officers. The judiciary and other public officers are included in the one amendment. Therefore I cannot vote for the recall of one without voting for the recall of both, and so I will vote for both."

Strange Case of Anthony Zundt

MERIDEN, Conn., Aug. 29.—Physicians here are puzzled by the unusual case of Anthony Zundt of Berlin, Conn. Early Saturday morning Zundt thought he saw the ghost of his friend, Anthony Vrezzia, who was murdered on July fourth, lying on a table in his home, and was so frightened that he lost the power of speech. He remained dumb until he attended mass late Sunday, when he regained the power of speech, only to lose his mind completely. He is now declared hopelessly insane.

Youthful Murderer Sticks to His Story

Attempt to Shake Testimony of Paul Geidel Proves Unavailing.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Further cross-examination confronted Paul Geidel today at his trial for the murder of William H. Jackson, the aged broker. The prosecution tried hard yesterday to shake the version of Jackson's death given by the defendant in his direct testimony.

The bellboy stuck to his story. Regarding the use of chloroform, Geidel said he stuffed a rag saturated with the drug in Jackson's mouth while he lay unconscious, for fear he would revive and give the alarm, but he had no intention of killing him. Geidel said he fought with Jackson only after the latter had attacked him.

The defense has nine or ten more witnesses.

Gaynor No Longer Protected by Police

New York Mayor Moving About Unguarded for First Time Since Shooting.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—For the first time in a year Mayor Gaynor this week is moving about the city without police protection. Ever since he was shot two policemen have kept constantly near him on the street. This week these men were relieved of their detail and transferred to patrol duty. The detailing of men to protect the mayor was made at the request of his secretary, and it is said that the mayor does not know that for months he has been followed by protectors.

Second Machine Picks Dazed Victim Up and Carries Him to Hospital.

STAMFORD, Conn., Aug. 29.—Frank Miller of New Canaan was run over by two automobiles last night near his home. The driver of the second machine picked him up and took him to the station. Lawyer for Defense Says Witness for the Prosecution Lied to 'Save His Shirt'

CHESTERSFIELD, COURTHOUSE, Va., Aug. 29.—Henry Clay Beattie Jr. is sure to go on the stand in his own defense. This statement was made by Henry M. Smith, Jr., lawyer for the defense, outside the courtroom today.

"It is much better, is it not," said Mr. Smith, "for a man to give with his own lips an explanation which dozens of others have been testifying about. Every one observed Henry Clay Beattie Jr. and noticed that he is the kind of a man to want to reply to the many conversations alleged to have been had with him by Paul Beattie and others."

Mr. Smith characterized Paul Beattie's testimony of yesterday as "overdone," declaring that it was a plain case of the witness "lying to save his shirt," as it was axiomatic that if Henry Clay Beattie Jr. were guilty Paul was just as much so.

Court reconvened at 10:30 o'clock and Paul Beattie immediately resumed the witness chair for cross-examination by the defense.

PAUL BEATTIE CROSS-EXAMINED.

He heard of the murder, he said, on the day following, reading the accounts in the newspapers. Questioned about meeting a man named E. V. Booth on the bridge, where he (Paul Beattie) worked as a watchman, witness disavowed all knowledge of the matter. He denied discussing the murder with Booth or telling him "he did not believe Henry committed the crime, because he was always devoted to his wife."

Witness said he "bought the gun" on Saturday but that Henry said nothing about keeping the matter of the weapon secret until after the murder. He told no one about the gun till Thursday night, he insisted, and admitted that he "was in a right bad fix" when Detective McMahon found out that he had bought the gun. He said he was "better now" with that story off his mind.

Mr. Smith pointed to varying statements.

WIND RAGES 96 MILES HOUR

Property Loss in Charleston and Savannah Reaches Millions

Telephone and Telegraph Lines to Outside World Out of Commission

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 29.—At least twelve persons are dead as the result of the severe storm which swept over this city Sunday night and Monday. The wind has died down and the water which stood in some of the streets has receded. Conservative estimates place damage at $1,000,000.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 29 (by mail, via Vaden, Ga., Aug. 28).—Springing from the sea, an unheralded storm buffeted this city and adjacent territory, including ships at sea, last night and all of today.

Savannah's parks and streets, piled with debris, are scenes of desolation as a result of the high winds that played havoc in every direction.

After raging all of the morning and the early part of the afternoon the wind subsided, too late, however, for the business houses, which had suspended business, to reopen.

Long distance telephone and all the telegraph wires connecting Savannah with the outside world were out of commission from early this morning and have not been repaired.

TWO MEN DROWNED.

Two men are reported to have been drowned in the Loxley creek, which divides Tybee Island from the mainland. The men, whose names are unknown, were in a boat that capsized when struck by the heavy wind.

In spite of the wrecking of telegraph poles and wires most of the trains left here on time today and tonight.

At 3:50 o'clock this morning the wind reached its highest velocity, blowing 96 miles an hour. The wind was from the west. No one was reported injured in this vicinity.

No word has been received of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Company's steamer Cretan, which was due here last night.

NO WORD AT ATLANTA.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 29.—Wire communication with Summerville, S. C., was interrupted this morning and it was impossible to get more tidings from storm-swept Charleston. Telegraph and telephone companies are endeavoring to repair their damaged lines. Latest reports from Charleston were that the gale had abated.

Find Bodies of Tourists Buried 14 Years in Ice

BREST, Aug. 29.—Tourists crossing the Loetschen glacier yesterday saw deep down in the clear ice the faces of two men. The bodies have not yet been identified, but they probably are those of two London tourists named Bemebecke and Coin, who disappeared fourteen years ago.

LACK OF FUNDS HALTS WORK ON MAINE

Remissness of Congress Cause of Delay in Obsequies Over Victims.

Plan to Erect Mast of Ill Fated Ship as a Monument Postponed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—As much of the wrecked battleship Maine as the available funds will permit will be removed or prepared for removal from Havana harbor, it was made known today, and the mammoth cofferdam surrounding the ruins will be refilled with water to await an additional appropriation by Congress to finish the raising operations. Congress failed to act on the President's recommendation for an additional $250,000, and the war department has mapped out its plans for the expenditure of the money on hand, which probably will be exhausted by the time Congress convenes in December. Because of the lack of funds, even funeral services over the recovered remains of the dead, and the erection in Arlington national cemetery of the mast of the ill fated vessel as a monument to them, must be postponed. The remains and the mast will be sent to the cemetery to be stored there until Congress acts.

The terribly wrecked forward part of the vessel, or about two-thirds of it, will be cut down to the levels already reached by the pumpage, then taken out and dumped into deep water outside Havana harbor. A small cofferdam to be built inside the main cofferdam to a depth of about forty feet around the forward part in order to extricate the rest of it later. One third of the after portion of the vessel it is believed can be floated. It will be pumped out and bulkheaded, but not moved pending the appropriation of more money.

Major George L. Erwin of the quartermaster's department, has been ordered to Havana to supervise the shipment to the United States of the remains recovered from the Maine. He relieves Captain James Tilford.

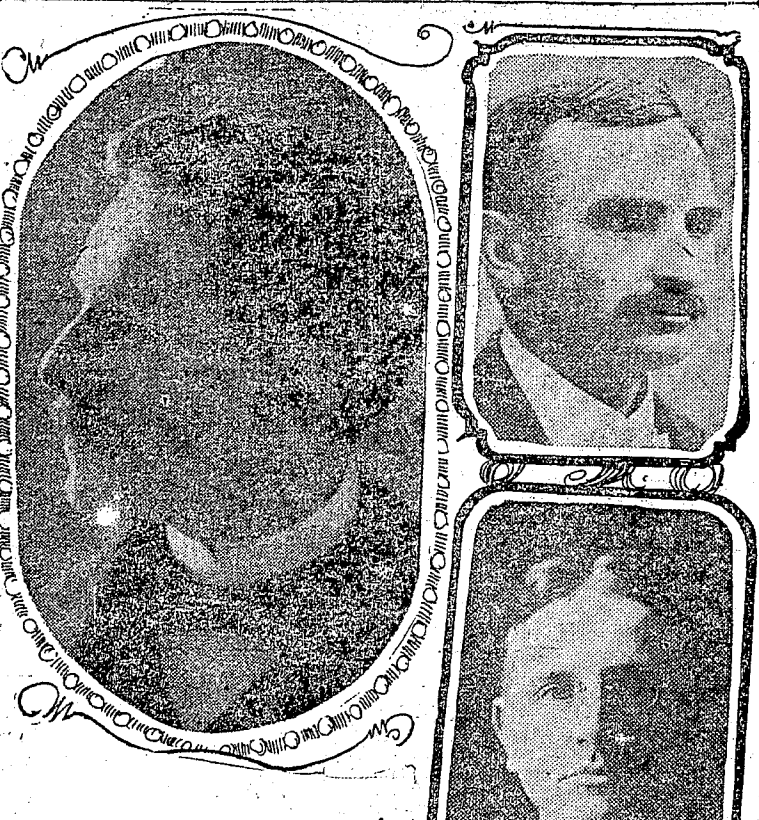

LA FOLLETTE NOT TO MAKE REPLY TO TAFT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Senator La Follette stated today that his speech at Harrisburg, Pa., Thursday night would not deal with political matters nor be a reply to President Taft's Saturday address at Hamilton, Mass.

Senator La Follette's address will be in the nature of a history of the Grange movement and the earliest successful declaration of the rights of the states and the government in railroad regulation and control.

bledick, former city councilman and head of a wholesale glass company.

To serve until July 1, 1915, Harrison S. Robinson, member of the board of freshers which framed the new charter, and prominent Oakland attorney.

To serve until July 1, 1917, Benjamin H. Pendleton, former president of the Oakland city council, a member of the Oakland Municipal Water Board, proprietor of a large wholesale tobacco business in San Francisco and Oakland.

The civil service commissioners will receive not more than $40 a month, and all vacancies will be filled for the unexpired term by appointment by the mayor.

JURISDICTION OF BOARD.

The Civil Service Board will have jurisdiction over all appointed officers and employees of the city or under any of the departments excepting the city attorney, treasurer, city clerk, engineer, chief of police, chief of fire department, street superintendent, health officer, superintendent of electrical department, building inspector, city wharfinger, license inspector, bacteriologist, city chemist, sanitary inspector, market and food inspector.

"All the men appointed are successful business men, men who have made their mark. At the same time they are young men, capable of applying themselves to the work, and of devoting time and energy to starting this matter right. Civil service is not merely the holding of little examinations from time to time. It is the organization of a system by which efficiency and loyalty may be gained, a system to establish the precedent that merit shall meet with its proper recognition. It means the placing of the city offices on a business basis. I think the men appointed will justify all the promise that is made for them. They are men for whom I entertain the highest respect."

PERSONNEL OF BOARD.

Ben H. Pendleton was for many years a member of the old city council, and was during the last period of his service president of that body. He initiated the Oakland plan in connection with the Seventh street franchise for a system of profit sharing between the city and the railroad. Pendleton planned and put through the first move for the condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of the properties of the Peoples Water Company.

Cobble-Dick is also an old member of the former city council, and is a man of standing in the community. Harrison S. Robinson, of the firm of Robinson, Robinson & Enck, attorneys, was a member of the board of franchisees which framed the charter. It is possible that he may be elected president of that body, although Pendleton is spoken of more often for this office.

MASS MEETING TO DISCUSS SCHOOLS

Executives and Prominent Citizens to Address Gatherings; Mayor to Preside

Interest has been aroused in the citizens' mass meeting to be held under the auspices of the Oakland board of education, Friday evening at 8 o'clock in Common Assembly hall, Grove and Eleventh streets, where Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, will give his views on "The Ideal High School." Invitations have been extended to the supervisors, members of improvement clubs, city and county officials and the parents. It will be open to the public.

Mayor Frank K. Mott will preside at the session. The speakers will be John Galen Howard, one of the leading architects of the Pacific coast, whose subject will be "Our New School Houses From an Architectural Standpoint." Prof. Charles Gilman Hyde, head of the department of sanitation in the University of California, will discuss "School Sanitation"; William E. Land, a heating and ventilating expert, "The Heating and Ventilating System of the Schools"; J. W. McClymonds, superintendent of the schools of this city, and Calvin M. Orr, president of the board of education, will also be among the speakers of the evening.

engineer, "the expense is greater because the office was on a fee system in the past and when I could not use the men I laid them off, and I did not pay any more than was necessary for the work. The charter establishes the office on a full salary basis, and there is no way to lower this expense."

When the matter came to a vote Anderson voted against the $1.98 rate. Councilman Bacous rose to his feet and demanded what suggestion Councilman Anderson would make to lower the rate. "I believe that $100,000 could be cut from the street department appropriation. There are too many clerks, and I believe that they are too highly paid in some instances. A chop could be made right down the line."

"I have just been figuring it out," returned Bacous. "I find that we pay $99,000 for gutter men alone, and that we need every man of these laborers to keep our streets in anything like condition. To let this work lapse would mean to place an added expense upon future years."

"How about inspectors?" demanded Anderson. "They are paid by the contractors," Bacous flashed back. "I think I understand this situation, and what Mr. Anderson is saying is a matter of fact. Mr. Anderson, aren't you sore because the engineer's office was consolidated with mine? Aren't you sore about this, and isn't your action caused by a feeling of that kind?"

"It looks to me as though this kick was merely a matter of pinheaded politics, and I am tired of it." "I'll tell you what I think about this," responded Anderson. "It looks to me that the street department is being made the political bureau of the city administration. This big salary roll points to no other interpretation."

After the appropriation in the street department is $400,000. The salary roll, which cannot be cut, amounts to $239,800. The item for rock and other supplies is over $100,000, and when you add these and subtract from the total appropriation, you haven't much left to do any valuable work with."

"I believe that the expense of running the engineer's office could be cut in half. If I were running it, as I believe under the charter I should be, I have no doubt that I could cut down this expense, and would promise to do so. And so much is paid for salaries, and I think that an effort could be made to clip these down to a more reasonable figure. I have no criticism to make of the police and fire departments. There the help is needed, and the salaries are automatically fixed by the charter."

MAYOR MOTT INTERPOSES.

"As president of the old board of public works," interposed Mayor Mott, "I was virtually head of the street department, and was familiar with all its operations. I think I could make the statement with the fullest confidence that it cannot with honesty be gained that during the past year this department was run economically and efficiently. The present appropriation is but little higher than that of last year, and the increase has been justifiably accounted for. The department is not an expensive one, considering the work accomplished, and any other statement is not made in good faith."

Members of the Alameda County Taxpayers' Association were present at the session, and listened to a lengthy discussion of the budget by Mayor Frank K. Mott; in which he explained the reason for the rate which the councilmen have thought it fit to establish. The members of the committee expressed their sympathy with the explanation. Those present were: F. J. Woodward, E. L. Hotie, M. L. Requa and W. S. Gould. The question was asked by the committee as to whether some of the emergency expenses, which will be used for permanent improvements, could not have been spread out over a number of years in the form of a bond issue. Mayor Mott replied that this would have been a good plan, could the necessity have been foreseen.

Colonel John P. Irish asked if it was not the case that Oakland spends more on permanent improvements in proportion to the total tax rate than other cities, and Mayor Mott explained that Oakland stands fifth or sixth among the cities of the United States in the percentage of money used for permanent improvements. In response to a question from Colonel Irish, Mayor Mott also stated that the assessed valuation placed on property is lower in Oakland than in other similarly situated cities.

THE INCREASED EXPENSE.

Mayor Mott showed that various items of the budget were imperative. Among these were the increases of expense provided for in the new charter, amounting to $114,500; loss from incorporation tax, $150,000; annexed district sewers, $100,000; equipment for the fire department, $123,775; balance of city land purchases, $91,425; amounting to $558,700. The bond redemption and interest fund that must be cared for amounts to $542,037, making a grand total of $1,130,737.

Without these items it was shown that the tax rate would be much less than that of last year, which was $1.38. The council has been wrestling with the budget problem for several weeks past, as a result of many conferences and the calling in of heads of departments reduced the departments by $239,800.

who arrived here today from Charleston. No lives were lost on the island, although much property was destroyed.

PASS NIGHT IN TERROR.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 29.—Seventy-five guests at the Hotel Isle of Pines on the island of that name, spent a night of terror while the storm raged. Congregated in the lobby, the only spot immune from the wind and rain, women wept and prayed, and one man held a pistol in readiness to shoot himself to avoid drowning. It is believed all those stranded on the island will be rescued today.

No violence was reported in Charleston up to early today, although the city was in almost total darkness. Arrivals from Charleston estimate the property loss at close to a million dollars, the principal damage being to the street railway system, the docks and the streets.

TORPEDO BOATS ASHORE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Six torpedo boats were swept ashore and the Charleston navy yard damaged to the extent of $20,000 by the storm which struck the Georgia and South Carolina coast Sunday night. In a telegraphic report received at the Navy Department today the velocity of the wind was estimated at 80 to 90 miles an hour. The yard has appealed for an emergency allotment for repairs.

OAKLAND HOTEL COMPANY ELECTION

Old Board of Directors Will Serve in Like Capacity for Another Year

The annual meeting of the Oakland Hotel Company was held yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the organization in the Oakland Bank of Savings. There were represented 15,517 shares of stock by the persons present.

The meeting was presided over by Edison F. Adams, vice-president of the organization, in the absence of the president, W. W. Garthwaite. The directors for the ensuing year were elected as follows: W. W. Garthwaite, Edison F. Adams, E. A. Heron, W. G. Henshaw, J. F. Carlson, H. C. Capwell, L. G. Burpee, M. J. Layman and F. J. Woodward.

These are the same who occupied positions on the board during the past year. Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the board will organize at the same place and elect officers for the ensuing twelve months.

DELEGATES OFF FOR CONVENTION

This morning A. E. Caldwell, assistant secretary of the Oakland Bank of Savings, and Frank Cerini, paying teller of the savings department of the same institution, left for a four weeks' Eastern trip. At Rochester, N. Y. they will act as delegates from Oakland Chapter, American Institute of Banking, to the national convention of that organization, September 6 to 10.

FOUR-DAY TAHOE AUTO RUN ENDS

The Cars Check in at Mole in Time to Take the 3 o'clock Ferry

The four-day run to Lake Tahoe ended this afternoon at the Oakland mole, when the various cars checked in in time to cross to San Francisco on the 3 p. m. Creek Route boat. It will not be known until tonight just what cars made the run without penalization. The likely winners, however, are the Franklin 15 horse-power roadster, driven by A. S. Chisholm; the American two Flanders roadsters, a Winton, an Elmore, the Lambert and the two Buicks. Deserving of a perfect score is the Franklin roadster, driven and entered by John R. Taylor of Oakland.

Undoubtedly the tour will become an annual feature. Many improvements can be made, though on the whole the run was well handled.

OAKLAND GIRL LOSES LOCKET ON "COAST"

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Jennie Perry, 2028 Thirtieth street, Oakland, was seeing the sights with a party on the Barbary Coast last night. While visiting among the dance halls she lost a locket and chain, which she had worn around her neck. She has asked the police to recover it for her. John Dryner of 240 Eddy street, was standing on the corner of Market and Fifth street last night when a pickpocket got away with his watch and fob.

K. OF C. TO GIVE BALL AND SOCIAL

Prominent Order Planning Its Annual Midsummer Jinks at Ebell Clubhouse.

The mid-summer social and dancing party of Oakland Council No. 784, Knights of Columbus tomorrow night, at Ebell Clubhouse, Harrison, near Fourteenth street will be one of the most enjoyable of the present season's affairs. An energetic committee, under the leadership of Leo J. McCarthy, the lecturing knight of the order, has had the affair in charge and no effort nor pains have been spared to make it a big success.

Ebell hall is being artistically decorated by a local florist under the direction of the following committee: Mrs. John F. Slavich, Mrs. Cyrus Abbott, Miss Loretta Knapp and others. The floor committee includes the following knights: Leo J. McCarthy, director; Thomas J. Clancy, T. I. Casey, Dr. John F. Slavich, W. A. Ward and W. H. Wollard.

Dancing will commence at 8:45 o'clock and during the evening an informal musical will be given.

All Knights of Columbus and their friends are welcome. Those not participating in the dancing will be entertained on the balcony or upper rooms of the auditorium, where cards and other diversions will be enjoyed.

SOCIAL ACTIVITY AHEAD.
The organization of this season's dancing assembly of the knights is now being formed, and numerous applications have been received by Dr. John F. Slavich, assembly director. The season will include four serial balls to be given during the months of October, November, January and February, 1912.

The Knights of Columbus are engaged daily in their preparations for the Columbus Day celebration on Lake Merritt on October 14. A rowing regatta and swimming races will be among the features, to be held under the auspices of the Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

HOME OF POET TO BE ACQUIRED FOR PARK

Col. John P. Irish Delegated by Council to Arrange Purchase Terms.

UNSURPASSED BEAUTY WITH HISTORIC VALUE

Cost of Joaquin Miller's "The Heights" Could Be Arranged in Installments.

Plans for the acquisition of "The Heights," Joaquin Miller's beautiful home above Diamond were initiated at the special session of the City Council last night at the instance of a committee headed by Col. John P. Irish. Col. Irish broached the subject and was commissioned by Mayor Frank K. Mott, under authorization of the Council, to interview the poet as to the terms upon which he would be willing to dispose of his land to the city.

It was stated by Col. Irish that in the purchase of the city would be fulfilling an obligation incurred when the annexed district was promised a public park. Col. Irish declared that the site was one of unequalled beauty and of historic associations that would make it a place of pilgrimage for literary men and historians, as well as for the general public, if it was preserved as a heritage for the people at large.

EQUITY ONLY NECESSARY NOW.

It was pointed out that arrangements may be made for obtaining possession of the land on terms that would spread the burden over a number of years, and that at the present time all that would be necessary would be to acquire any equity in the property. With this understanding, Col. Irish was commissioned by the council to obtain data as to the size, situation and possible terms of acquisition of "The Heights."

Addressing the council concerning the desirability of acquiring the property of the aged California poet, Col. Irish urged the necessity of early action, as Joaquin Miller has been ill in health. He said: "I came here to speak in favor of acquiring the land of Joaquin Miller, 'The Heights,' for a public park. There is an increasing need for such parks, and this is one which offers peculiar historic and esthetic values."

IDEAL SITE FOR PARK.

"This park is one of the finest and most ideal situations for a park in the city of Oakland. Oakland should have a hillside and mountain park, and this is a site suitable in every way to the purpose. The property could be obtained on very easy terms, and would serve to fulfill an obligation to the annexed district."

"The historic value of the site will make it a mecca of pilgrimage from now into the far off future. It is the location of the first camp made by Fremont in this region, and it is the home of Joaquin Miller, a man whom the consensus of literary men of the world sets down as destined to literary immortality."

DEFIES 3 NATIONS IN OSTRICH RAID

Yankee Secures Valuable Lot of Birds From Forbidden Zone in Africa.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Edicts of the governments of England, France and Germany failed to deter William Hiles, ostrich farmer of Bloomsburg, Pa., during his latest trip into Africa. The three governments recently issued orders that no ostriches should be taken out of Africa, but Mr. Hiles is in Boston today with fifty-three of the birds, brought to America on the steamer Kansas. Hiles left the United States a year ago. Striking directly for the interior of Africa, he soon secured fifty-four birds gathered for him by tribesmen of the desert.

His plans went well and the birds were put on board the Kansas at Jibuti secretly. Owing to the fact that it practically was impossible to obtain more of the big birds in view of the increased precautions that will be taken against their export from Africa, he estimates the specimens at $15,000 each. Only one ostrich died on the way across the Atlantic.

DASHING FRENCH WOMAN IS TO BE DEPORTED

Amille Blanchard, a dashing French woman of striking beauty and elaborate and expensive adornment, who had been adjudged undesirable alien in the Federal court of San Francisco, was taken out of the Alameda county jail this morning by Immigration Officer John Robinson and transferred to Angel Island for deportation. She was committed to the care of Sheriff Barnett late yesterday afternoon by Judge Van Fleet and will be sent out of the country immediately with admonition never to return.

RAILWAY WOULD BE FAIR EMPLOYEES TREATED WELL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president and director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman lines, last night gave out the following statement relative to the disagreement between the railroads and the shop employees' federation:

By JULIUS KRUTTSCHNITT.
On my trip to San Francisco I read an admirable editorial in one of our San Francisco dailies in which was said: "It is not very clear what grievances exist which the shopmen of the Union and Southern Pacific desire to have remedied."

I fully appreciate that the public is entitled to full information on a question which involves the surrender to a committee of employees of the right to say when the corporation shall or shall not perform its services to the public.

The policy of the Union and Southern Pacific has always been one of justice, liberality, and even generosity toward their employees. This policy, prescribed by both Mr. Huntington and Mr. Harriman, and thoroughly endorsed by Mr. Lovett, the present executive head of both systems, has never been violated, as far as I know, and has in numberless conferences been gratefully recognized by employees; indeed, on August 28th there appeared in one of the San Francisco afternoon papers the following statement credited to the president of the federation, the spokesman for the employees:

"In the past we have had nothing but the most friendly relations with the Southern Pacific, having always been treated with the utmost consideration."

QUOTES CIRCULAR ISSUED TO S. P. EMPLOYEES.

The superintendent of motive power of the Southern Pacific Company in a circular to employees, issued on August 3, that has been freely quoted in the press, said that in dealing with the treatment, he was paying the highest wages of any railroad in the United States; and, in addition, was paying within equitable limitations a liberal scale of pensions, from which though contributing nothing, the employee receives material assistance in his declining years. Nearly 700 are now carried on the pension rolls of the Harriman lines.

For many years our officers have freely met organized and unorganized employees in conference.

Conceding considerate treatment and a willingness on the part of the officers to discuss conditions at all times, the public is naturally mystified as to the issue, which, briefly, may be outlined as follows:

At a meeting in Salt Lake held last summer, employees from all crafts on the Harriman lines determined to present to each line demands identical with those sent the Southern Pacific, which are substantially as follows:

WAGE INCREASE AND APPRENTICE QUESTION.

Second—All present or future employees not members shall join the federated association within 30 days, which means, of course, the discharge of all employees who will not or can not join; that is, an absolutely closed shop.

Third—The company to agree that the control and final settlement of differences with their employees shall rest with a federated committee, made up of representatives of all five crafts, instead of committees of the individual crafts as heretofore. The effect of these demands, if conceded, would be to place the whole body of workers in all these crafts behind a demand made by any one of them, no matter how unreasonable—an arrangement which would certainly encourage the making of unreasonable demands, which are not likely to be made by the individual crafts operating alone.

Fourth—To restrict the number of apprentices, denying to American boys the opportunity to fit themselves for the duties of life by learning the trade.

Fifth—A flat increase of seven cents per hour for all mechanics, apprentices and helpers, which would mean increases of from 15 to 25 per cent; averaging for the entire shop forces 23 per cent; a reduction of hours without decrease of pay, and other demands, averaging 13 per cent additional, or an average total increase from both sources of 36 per cent. This in addition to an average increase of pay granted to all shop crafts of 12 1/2 per cent the last five years, and in the face of the fact that the Southern Pacific is now paying higher wages than any other railroad in the United States.

STATE'S FELLOW SERVANT LAW QUOTED.

The effect of all these demands would increase the shop payrolls of the Harriman lines about $7,000,000 annually.

Sixth—No employees shall work by piece, premium, or bonus system; where anything of this sort is in existence, it shall be discontinued; shop foremen shall be filled by promotion from the ranks of competent, efficient employees; all this in direct conflict with the public will recently emphatically expressed that increased expenses of the carriers were to be met by increasing the efficiency of their operations and not by increasing freight rates.

Seventh—No form of physical examination or personal record shall be required; that is, the right, exercised by every citizen to require of persons entering his service, evidence of competency, good character and health. Under this right, diseased, incompetent, inefficient and immoral persons might be employed, and if they succeeded in escaping detection for 30 days they could not be discharged without danger of a strike.

The fellow servant laws of California, and of many other States, make the corporation responsible in damages to its employees through negligence of a co-employee. The proposed clause would deprive the corporation of all means of protection, and would promote inefficient and unsafe public service.

PREVIOUS STRIKES NOT SERIOUS IN CHARACTER.

Eighth—If forces are reduced, employees are to indicate who shall be laid off, thereby embarrassing the company in efforts to increase efficiency, riding the service of inefficient employees.

Ninth—No employee belonging to the federation is to be discharged or suspended without previous consent of the employees' committee. Heretofore any issue arising with a machinist, boilermaker, blacksmith or sheet metal worker was taken up with the company by his associates, and in most cases was adjusted. When unsuccessful, strikes of that particular craft have followed, but these were not serious enough to bring the operations of the properties and prevent them from performing the public services for which they were created. Except in a few cases, where sympathetic strikes were ordered, the trouble was confined to the particular craft and line on which it originated.

Under the change proposed by the federated employees and opposed by the companies, an issue raised on a small system road in Louisiana, members to strike in distant California, Oregon, Washington or Nebraska. To settle the question, the company involved might have to meet a committee representing all of its craftsmen, which committee would owe allegiance to a general committee composed of all craftsmen of all the lines of the Harriman system.

RAILROAD'S DUTY IS DEFINED BY LAWS.

Such an arrangement would mean chaos, would abridge or deprive the corporations of the ability to fulfill the duties imposed upon them by law, and the officers deliberately so betraying their trusts would be universally and justly condemned by public opinion.

The public nature of the functions of the railroad corporations has been most clearly defined by the people in legislation, and by the courts in interpreting the laws. It would be difficult today to find a railroad officer who did not fully recognize the paramount nature of his duties to the public.

These are the reasons why we decline to surrender to an irresponsible committee of federated employees representing a very small portion of the public, trusts confided to us by the entire public, and why we will not concede to such a committee the right to dictate whether our companies shall or shall not fulfill for 20,000,000 of people in seventeen States of the Union the duties clearly prescribed by law.

KRUTTSCHNITT HOLDS KEY TO SITUATION

Over 80,000 Men Dropped by Different Railroad Lines During Past Year

executive board of Illinois Central Federated Workmen, representing nine trades, have decided to leave the question of calling a strike to the international presidents of the different crafts.

This action is taken by some to mean a step in the direction of a peaceful settlement of the dispute.

A letter has been forwarded to Vice-President W. L. Park and General Manager Foley of the Illinois Central Railroad, asking that a conference be arranged and a number of meetings were held by the labor men while awaiting a reply to the statement. It may take several days before the labor men conclude their negotiations with the railroad officials.

AWAIT WORD FROM LEADERS.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks and allied unions of the Illinois Central held a big meeting last night to discuss the strike situation. There were several speakers and the tenor of their remarks was that the union employees in this city would abide by the decision of the leaders in Paducah and Chicago.

TEA IS REJECTED BECAUSE COLORED

Importers Will Appeal From Adverse Ruling of Collector of Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Customs Collector Stratton received yesterday a report from Appraiser John G. Mattos and Tea Examiner Dennis Toohy to the effect that 60,000 pounds of tea which arrived recently on the Mongolia and the American Maru had been found by the government chemist to be artificially colored. The law which went into effect on May 1 of this year prohibits the importation of teas containing any kind of artificial coloring matter whatever. The collector made an order yesterday refusing the entry, and the importers will be allowed six months' time in which to export the tea to China or some other country.

The local importers have notified the collector that they will take an appeal to the Board of General Appraisers at New York as to whether the teas are artificially colored. They claim also that all China teas which are admitted at this port are artificially colored, and, furthermore, that the government standardized teas are also artificially colored, and they propose to make a fight upon the proposition. On orders of the Treasury Department to the collector are that it matters not whether the coloring is deleterious or otherwise.

Of the lot of tea rejected 8000 pounds came by the Mongolia and 52,000 pounds by the American Maru. Several hundred thousand pounds of tea arrived a few days ago by the Tenyo Maru, and this will be examined by order of the collector, chemically as well as physically, to determine the addition of coloring matter.

At the suggestion of the importers the collector has sent a long telegram to Washington concerning the equities of the case, but he declined to discuss the nature of the communication.

Collector Stratton said yesterday that importers claim that all China and Japanese teas of certain brands are colored artificially as a part of the process of curing the leaves, and that if the new law is enforced a radical revolution must be effected in the methods of curing. It is expected that the Eastern importers will bring strong pressure to bear on the department to have the law changed or its interpretation materially modified.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Saves Worry, Saves Money, Saves the Hair.

If you want to free your head of dandruff and stop falling hair, you must sooner or later resort to Newbro's Herpicide.

By using Herpicide first you save yourself worry, which is desirable; you save money, which is a consideration, and you save your hair, which is the most important of all.

Why not profit by the experience of Mrs. S. A. Lee, of 110 South 4th St., Richmond, Va., who writes:

"Four years' residence in India ruined my hair until it was but two inches long and very thin. I tried everything in Europe and America without benefit until I was induced to use Herpicide. My hair is now long, soft and silky and natural color, while before it was quite gray. My friends never tire of admiring my hair."

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and prevents falling hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly. No matter what the claims of others, Herpicide is the only genuine original dandruff germ destroyer.

One dollar size bottles guaranteed. Sold by all druggists. Applications at good barber shops.

TOBACCO TRUST CHANGING COATS

Time for Depositing Stock Under Plan of Supreme Court Decision.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The time for depositing stocks and bonds of the American Tobacco Company, prior to obeying the order to dissolve by the Supreme Court has been extended to September 15 for the stock and September 27 for the bonds. Yesterday was the final day originally set for such deposits, but a conference of the members of the committees appointed to protect the interests of the holders of tobacco company securities agreed on the postponement.

A representative of the stockholders' committee said that about 50 per cent of the stock had been deposited or pledged for deposit and a large amount of bonds. An attorney for the tobacco company is authority for the statement that on Thursday an application probably will be made to the United States Circuit Court for an order directing the American Tobacco Company to bear the reasonable expenses of the three stockholders' committees.

BARTENDER HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Man Almost Asphyxiated When Defective Jet Fills His Room With Gas.

William Cimmonilla, a bartender, residing at 770 Sixth street, went to bed early this morning after a hard night's work. He turned off the gaslight before retiring, but accidentally threw the jet open again and did not notice the mishap. About 6 o'clock other inmates of the house were attracted to his room by the odor of gas and when they forced open the door they found Cimmonilla in bed almost asphyxiated. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital in the police ambulance and resuscitated.

PRINCE OF ANCIENT LINEAGE IS DEAD

Descendant in a Direct Line From First Successor of Mahomet the Prophet

HYDERABAD, British India, Aug. 29.—Asaf Jah Nizam-ul-Mulk, the Nizam of Hyderabad and the prince of the premier Indian empire, died today. He was born August 18, 1866, and succeeded his father, the Nizam Asaf-Ud-Daula, on the latter's death, February 26, 1869.

The late Nizam belonged to a family of highest antiquity and importance among Mohammedan rulers, being lineally descended from the first Khalif, Abu Jakr (the successor of the prophet). The area of the state of Hyderabad is 82,629 square miles and the population exceeds 11,000,000. The Nizam's heir, Sultan Ul Mulk Bahadur, accompanied by an entourage, visited the United States three years ago.

ORIENTAL IMPORTS ARE UNDERVALUED

Large Consignment Destined for Biggest Firm in Country Held Up by Collector.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—The announcement was made yesterday by Collector of the Port F. S. Stratton that the shipment of 500 cases of Oriental merchandise consigned to Morimura Brothers and detained by Appraiser Mattos at this port, had been found to have been entered far below its real value. The consignment arrived three weeks ago and on examination was ordered detained by Appraiser Mattos.

Collector Stratton was officially notified yesterday that the goods were entered in some instances at as low as 70 per cent less than their actual value. The lowest goods entered, which were re-appraised, were entered at less than 40 per cent. Collector Stratton said that the goods were entered at an average of 52 per cent less than their actual cost.

The decision on the part of the government will be of vital interest to all importers of goods into this country, as Morimura Brothers are credited with being the most extensive importers of Oriental goods in the world. They have stores in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Denver.

A few months ago the suspicions of the government officials were aroused and Special Agent Hamer was sent to the Orient to make a thorough investigation. Swayne & Hoyt, customs brokers, were the representatives of Morimura Brothers at this port, and they sent in a formal protest regarding the detention of the 500 cases. Later Hoyt received a telegram from Morimura Brothers at New York stating they were fully aware that Special Agent Hamer had been to the Orient investigating their operations, and that they had nothing to fear.

They asserted that the shipment which was then detained was shipped from the Orient at the time they knew they were being investigated by the government and that there was nothing undervalued in it. Swayne & Hoyt will appeal the case to the office of the general board of appraisers in New York. As none of the goods were entered at less than 75 per cent of their real value, Morimura Brothers escaped financial loss of having the goods confiscated by the government.

SHAME DRIVES WOMAN TO GRAVE

Accused by Husband of Infidelity She Fires Bullet Into Breast.

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 29.—After denying charges coupling her name with that of R. Hodges, a Los Angeles aqueduct foreman, Mrs. M. Filipovitch, wife of the superintendent of the Monolith Construction Camp near Tehachapi, shot herself fatally in the breast.

In the meantime Filipovitch had gone to Hodges' tent, confronted him with a letter and, after obtaining a confession, bound Hodges' hands and forced him to go before General Superintendent Smith, where Hodges was made to grovel on the ground and kiss the hands and feet of Filipovitch.

Filipovitch at first wanted to horse-whip Hodges, but was talked out of it. Then the husband insisted on the humiliating kissing, which Hodges did with alacrity.

Filipovitch returned home to find his wife dead. The woman had declared that Hodges was nothing to her, but because of the notoriety she would go to Seattle till the affair hushed down.

Her husband was satisfied at first that his wife was telling the truth. Then he went after the mail at the Tehachapi postoffice and found a letter addressed to his wife in the handwriting of Hodges. He opened it and found many endearing lines.

Hodges was booted off the job by the men. He has not been seen since.

H. J. M'COY HONOR GUEST AT LUNCHEON

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—In recognition of the work which he has accomplished among the young men of San Francisco, a complimentary luncheon was given Henry J. McCoy, general secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, at the Palace Hotel yesterday.

Rollo V. Watt, president of the Young Men's Christian Association, presided at the luncheon and speeches were made by Henry J. McCoy, Judge W. W. Morrow, M. H. Robbins, president of the Merchants' Association; Dr. E. R. Dille and Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California. Many representative business men were present.

McCoy in his speech reviewed the work which has been accomplished by the organization in the last thirty years that he has been the local general secretary.

CLUB TO GIVE FINAL SHIRT-WAIST SOCIAL OF SUMMER

Four of the committee who have arranged for shirt waist dance of the Thursday Night Club.

The last of the series of summer shirt waist parties by the Thursday Night Club will be given on Thursday evening, August 31, at Maple Hall.

All previous affairs of the club have been enjoyed by all who attended. More than five hundred invitations have been sent out, and the arrangement committee promises this affair to surpass all others. The members of the committee who are helping to make the affair a success are: Miss Anna Ahern, Miss Mary English, Miss Florence Barry, Miss Bess Ahern and the other members of the club.

LAS VEGAS IS A RIVAL OF RENO

Armogosa River Town Plans to Establish a Divorce Colony.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Reno's reputation and prestige as a divorce market have aroused the envy of another Nevada town, Las Vegas, and a rival center for the legal separating industry is to be started there. A Nevada lawyer who has had much to do with the running of the divorce mill sees possibilities in Las Vegas and has plans completed for a large hotel there, designed to be especially attractive to members of the colony seeking divorces. It is to be the biggest divorce-encouraging institution in the world in its line, according to the promoters.

Las Vegas will first appeal particularly to the winter divorce trade, and bases its claims to superiority of its climate, which is bracing, but not cold, during the frosty months, while Reno is too chilly for comfort at times. Once it gets the winter business it believes summer visitors will also come.

MURDER SUSPECT MAKES ESCAPE FROM PURSUERS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—E. de la Torres, a Mexican charged with the murder of Pasqual Sooner, at Watts, a suburb, last Thursday escaped from a cordon of deputy sheriffs who had spent the night surrounding a small eucalyptus grove near Willow Brook.

Searchers traced the Mexican to the grove. The sheriff's office here was notified and five deputies were sent out. The deputies surrounded the grove in the confident expectation that daylight would bring the capture of the man. But when the officers invaded the grove at noon they found De la Torres had escaped.

The fugitive is heavily armed and the deputies who started in pursuit expect a battle when they come up with him.

Sooner was a stranger to De la Torres and is said to have been shot without provocation.

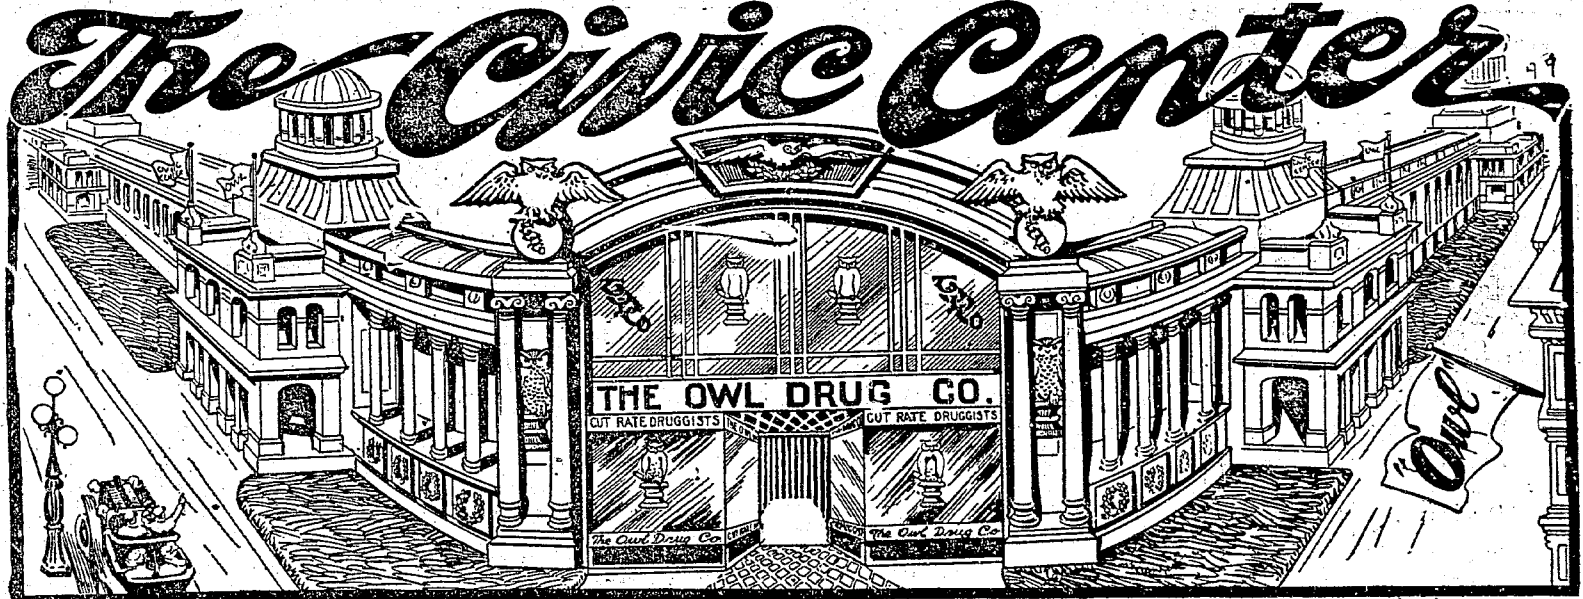

SIX MEN KILLED WHEN CABOOSE HITS FLAT CAR

REQUIN, Sask., Aug. 29.—Six men were killed as a result of a collision between a caboose and a flat car in the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway yards here yesterday. John R. Hopkinson and Samuel Morghen were instantly killed and L. N. Mertin of Lynn, Mass., Michael Griffith of Preston, Lancashire, England; Albert Marsal, Montreal, and James Christy, Glasgow, were so badly hurt that they died later.

The six men were sitting in the rear of the caboose when it was sent crashing into the flat car.

AGED MINER CRUSHED TO DEATH BY ROOF

REDDING, Aug. 29.—George Smith, a 70-year-old miner, who had resided near the Iron Mountain mine for ten years, was found dead beneath the wreckage of an abandoned cabin, half a mile from his lonely house. Smith probably was cutting down the abandoned cabin to turn it into wood. He had sawed a rafter or two in twain. This weakened the roof, which fell and crushed him to death. As Smith had not been seen for ten days, the accident is supposed to have happened over a week ago.

OAKLAND'S BOYS AND GIRLS

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS TO STAGE 'BROWN OF HARVARD'

The Oakland High School Dramatic Society has announced the production of "Brown of Harvard," which will be given at the Macdonough theater by the members of the society at the end of the present school term. A large number of candidates for the society will be initiated at the annual jinks which have been planned for early September. A dance will also be given soon.

The society has voted to give beautiful pins to ten of its members each year for meritorious work. The pin committee selected to choose the design for the pins, includes: Marlon Hook, chairman; Howard Sargeant and Paul Wilson.

The meetings of the dramatic club are held Friday afternoons at the Oakland High school.

SPORTS AND ART HIS GOAL IN LIFE

JAMES GRAHAM, who will soon enter kindergarten.
—Scharz Photo.

Outdoor sports hold a peculiar charm for James Graham, a four-year-old lad, who will soon register in the local schools.

Master James is looking forward to the time when he will be able to take part in all the athletic events and enjoy the various activities which his older brothers engage in.

The youth is keenly alive to all the pleasures of life and has often expressed a desire to do creative work in artistic lines.

Y. M. C. A. LADS WILL SOON CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

To secure 300 members for the Young Men's Christian Association within two days is the ambition of a company of boys of the association who wish to raise the membership role to 800. Sixteen teams, consisting of squads of ten members each, will endeavor to increase the enrollment. The captains have announced that the battle for members will commence September 15 and will close September 16. Clarence Tye and Wilfred Wiley will lead the campaign.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN FOR OUTING TO FORT BAKER

The boy scouts of the Centennial Methodist Episcopal Church of this city are planning a trip to Fort Baker, which has been arranged for September 16, when a company of thirty lads will make the pilgrimage.

Many long tramps have been enjoyed during the past season by the boys, who banded together for the purpose of learning the ways of the scouts.

The scout movement has met with tremendous success and has become very popular in Alameda county, where about 500 boys, representing schools and churches, have taken the scout's oath.

WILL SERVE ON THE U. S. GRAND JURY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Twenty-three Federal Grand Jurors were sworn in yesterday before Judge Van Fleet in the United States District Court. Owing to an oversight in asking the jurors the usual questions several more who had been sworn were found to be ineligible and their places will be filled at the next meeting of the Grand Jury.

Those who are on the list to serve are: A. M. Bender, insurance broker; M. G. Bugbee, architect; W. M. Cartwright; Frank E. Chamberlin, real estate; Max Charles, merchant; Newton G. Cohn, real estate; James E. Cone, patent attorney; John Connor, insurance; George A. Dow Pumping Company; Frederick E. Ehlers, grocer; Charles K. Field, assistant editor "Sunset"; George Filmer (foreman) Filmer Bros.; S. B. Force, manufacturer; George C. Halbertson, merchant; Rodney Kendrick, lumber dealer; James D. Ralph, rubber goods; Alanson M. Ray, secretary James V. Coleman; S. J. Rasette, secretary El Dorado Lumber Company; George A. Riggs, manager Howe Scale Company; W. D. Schurlock, merchant; Charles H. SECRETARY FISHER IS TO VISIT SKAGWAY

SKAGWAY, Aug. 29.—It was announced today that Secretary of the Interior William Fisher will visit Skagway before returning to Seattle from his inspection of the Alaska coal fields. He will arrive here September 20 and after being entertained at luncheon will make a trip over the White Pass and Yukon Railroad as a guest of Vice-President O. L. Rickeson. Mr. Fisher will make a short trip down the Yukon river and will drive over the new government road on the return to Skagway.

GIVEN LIBERTIES OSTRICHES GO WILD

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—Believing his ostriches were being too closely confined and that they lacked proper exercise to aid digestion, the foreman of Bentley's Ostrich Farm a few days ago decided to give some of his birds the run of a larger farm.

Today he is mourning the death of fifteen of his finest fowl, whose yearly production of plumage amounted to a small fortune.

No sooner did the ostriches gaze upon the wide expanse of inviting and unobstructed fields than they began running. This they kept up until their heart action ceased and they dropped dead.

BIG INDUSTRIAL PLANT IS TO LOCATE IN OAKLAND

WESTINGHOUSE COMPANY HAS SITE

Great Manufacturing Concern Buys Property in Oakland for a Factory

Story First Published by THE TRIBUNE Is Confirmed From Pittsburgh

One week ago, Saturday last, THE TRIBUNE published exclusively the fact that the Westinghouse Air Brake Company was about to establish a plant in this city and that in furtherance of that purpose had purchased, through the agency of Fred Le Ballister of this city, a spacious site for its plant at the corner of Park avenue and Hallock street.

The article set forth the national reputation of the corporation, the fact that it has at the present time but two plants in the United States and that Oakland had been selected as the location for the third headquarters of the concern in the United States. Reference was also made to the fact that the corporation does business in all parts of the world and has large quarters in all the nations of Europe.

IMPORTANCE TO OAKLAND.

Other facts were enumerated setting forth the importance of this acquisition to Oakland and these were emphasized today by a telegram from Pittsburgh, where one of the two eastern plants of the company is located. It seems that the announcement that the concern was coming to Oakland has created dismay even in that great manufacturing city, where there are hundreds of men in the employ of the company, on the ground that the corporation, in locating here, intends to use the local plant for the extension of its business to the Orient and that means a loss of many contracts which would otherwise go to Pittsburgh.

COMING TO THIS CITY.

The telegram referred to is as follows: "PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 28.—The Westinghouse Air Brake Company of Pittsburgh has just closed negotiations for the purchase of a site at Oakland, Cal., upon which it will spend millions for a large plant for the manufacture of its various products.

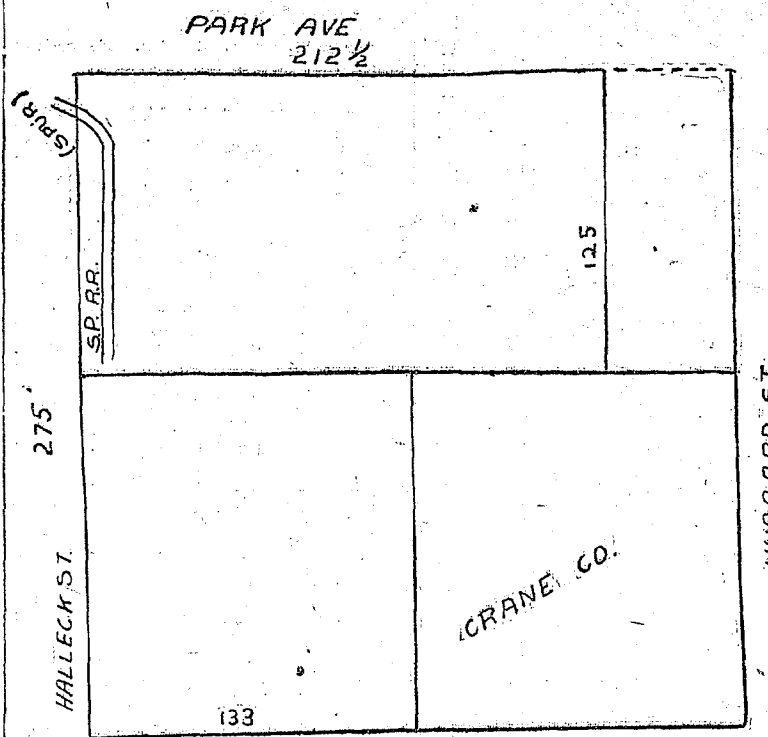

CLOSER TO ORIENT.

"For more than a year the company has been negotiating for the property just purchased. The management desires a plant in that section in order that the company might be placed in a better position to serve the needs of Japan, Manchuria and other Eastern countries. As soon as the plant is completed the company will push its Oriental trade to a greater extent than heretofore. Work on the plant will be commenced at once.

BLOW TO PITTSBURG.

"The Westinghouse interests claim it is only an extension, but as work for the

This diagram shows the location of the property which has been secured by the Westinghouse Air-Brake Company for the location of its branch plant to be established in Oakland.

Orient always has come to Pittsburgh the move is regarded here as a hard blow to local industry.

"Increase of trade in Pacific contracts is expected to result from the move. It is expected to have the plant in running order by September 1, 1932. Pittsburgh plants already are busy on Oriental contracts, but henceforth all the work will go to Oakland."

A PLANT AT ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., is the only city in the United States outside Pittsburgh which has now a plant of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company, though the plant there is not by any means of the same importance as that in the Smoky City. Nevertheless, that place, a few days after THE TRIBUNE published the news of the company's coming here, expressed to similar views of dismay, for the reason that it felt the concern in this city would naturally deprive it of its importance as the only place in the western part of the company which enjoyed the favor of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company.

The company is one of the strongest from a financial standpoint in the country, and is also one of the best money-making concerns in the United States or, indeed, in any other part of the world. It works slowly, but with a great deal of method and with due consideration of everything that ought to be looked into in the extension of its manufacturing and shipping facilities.

One of the things it had to consider in this connection was the relative merits of the railroad and shipping accommodations of San Francisco and Oakland. The selection of a site showed that the managers came to the conclusion that the shipping facilities in Oakland were superior to those across the bay, for the reason that it is possible for the company in this city to receive its material and dispatch its manufactured product both by rail and ship and the plant may be reached by spur tracks from each and all the roads which have their terminals here, a fact which is impossible on the other side of the bay. The advantage of these spur tracks, as also of the belt railroad which is to become one feature of the improvement of the harbor of this city, does away with drayage, which means a great saving in the course of a year.

MOST DESIRABLE SITE.

Another advantage which the managers were experienced enough to appreciate is the fact that the site is a level plain and that no tearing down of hills or filling up of depressions is needed, thus saving a considerable expenditure of money.

The site which has been purchased by the Westinghouse Air Brake Company is at the southeast corner of Park avenue and Hallock street with a frontage on the former thoroughfare of 212 1/2 feet and a depth of 125 feet, and on the latter of 275 feet and a depth of 125 feet. It therefore owns 61,375 square feet on which a mammoth warehouse or factory may be constructed when the company inaugurates its improvement.

At the present time there is a spur track extending from the Southern Pacific road into the property at the northeast corner, and others may be easily extended south and east by the Santa Fe Company. Nevertheless, that place, a few days after THE TRIBUNE published the news of the company's coming here, expressed to similar views of dismay, for the reason that it felt the concern in this city would naturally deprive it of its importance as the only place in the western part of the company which enjoyed the favor of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company.

OTHERS WILL FOLLOW.

The example of the company in question is bound to attract other corporations to the section referred to for the reason that there is still a considerable amount of vacant property to be had there for warehouse and manufacturing purposes, although it is rapidly being acquired by large operating concerns.

As it is now, the greater part of the territory west of San Pablo avenue and between the Santa Fe road and Park avenue is thickly settled by some of the largest industrial concerns on the coast, and among them may be mentioned the Emeryville Planing Mill Company, the Terminal Lumber Company, the American Rubber Manufacturing Company, the East Carriage Company, the American Fuel Company, the Waterhouse & Lester Manufacturing Company, E. M. Unmanned & Son, the Hudson Iron Works, the Griffin, Skelly Co., the H. A. Potter Siove Company, the Western Electric Company, the American Can Company, the Peck & Ellis Wholesale Furniture Company, the National Biscuit Company, the Westinghouse Electric Company, and others.

CITY YARD FOR ANNEXED AREA

Teams of Street Department to Be Housed On Foot-hill Boulevard

Provision for a corporation yard for the use of the street and other departments at work in the annexed district was made by the city council this morning when the council accepted the offer of P. C. The rent will be $100 a month, the city leasing for three years.

HAS $10,000 TO BET ROLPH WINS ELECTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Former Senator Gus Hartman, representative of Attorney Henry A. Hays, has $10,000 to bet that Rolph will be elected mayor over P. H. McCarthy. Hartman is willing to bet $5 to $10 or even to bet that Rolph will be elected at the first election but the greatest difficulty is locating McCarthy money.

Rolph is a strong favorite in the betting. The betting commissioner, Tom Corbett, reports an abundance of McCarthy money, with few people willing to cover with McCarthy money at tempting odds.

BUSINESS MEN ON TOUR OF OAKLAND

Chamber of Commerce Directors Take Jaunt in Special Key Route Car

Eleven members of the board of directors of the local chamber of commerce spent the morning on the sightseeing tour of the city made on the special Key Route car, and run over the lines of the Oakland Traction Company. The party left the chamber building at 10:30, returning to the St. Mark Hotel at 1:30, where at 2:00, the trip was continued. The tour was taken under the direction of G. S. Detrick, excursion manager of the Key Route and traction companies, and was the first of the directors as a means of expressing the appreciation of that body for the excellent advertising which such tours give to Oakland.

The route this morning included a trip to Northridge, back via Berkeley proper and Piedmont park. In speaking of the trip, Secretary A. A. Denison of the chamber said: "The trip was a revelation to all of us, in spite of the fact that we have all lived in Oakland for years. This was because the route has been so well selected and the features of the trip so well presented that the great attractiveness of the city was presented to a stranger was never before made so vivid to us. The directors are a unit in saying that the trip is an excellent one, and one of the finest sorts of advertising which Oakland could possibly have."

A similar trip will shortly be taken by the directors over the route traversed by the new sightseeing automobile recently installed here, and it is the intention of the chamber to encourage similar tours in every way possible.

The party of today was headed by H. C. Capwell, president of the chamber, and included directors, and included Secretary A. A. Denison, Julius Abrahamson, Howard W. Bray, W. E. Gibson, W. W. Keith, Frank A. Leach, Jr., Walter S. Mackay, George E. Randolph, W. B. Waddell and A. Jonas.

BRAGG WINS SUIT AGAINST FAMILY

Aged Inventor Defeats Efforts of Four Daughters to Get Property.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Robert Bragg, aged inventor and capitalist, yesterday won the suit against his four daughters, Mrs. Rebecca Martenstein, Mrs. Elizabeth Cumming, Mrs. Ethel Bragg, and Mrs. Ada Holmes, for the return of $68,550, which each received from their late sister, Miss Mary Bragg.

In 1903 Bragg decided to tour the east with his daughter Mary so he gave her home to his daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Martenstein, and turned his business interests over to his sons. Three years later he persuaded his daughter Mary to make a will and give all his realty holdings to her four married sisters. She prepared four envelopes, addressed to her sisters, in which she placed stocks and bonds to the value of $68,550. After her death these envelopes were to be sent to the four sisters.

Four days before Mary died Bragg mailed the envelopes. The understanding was when he presented his home to his daughter Mary she was to give it to her, but after Mary died everything was done to make the old man's life miserable and to force him to leave the house, and the four daughters wanted to get rid of him after having secured their sister's estate, he sent about trying to get the last part of his wealth. He found that the envelopes which conveyed the stocks and bonds were illegal, so sought relief in the Superior Court.

It is generally understood that Bragg will give his dead daughter's estate to his sons, with the exception of one portion, which will go to Mrs. Ada Holmes, the only daughter who remained in the family. Bragg will institute suits against his three daughters, through Attorney Gerald Halsey, because of their failure to carry out their orders as executor of his daughter's estate.

ROLPH ADDRESSES THREE MEETINGS

Candidate Receives Flattering Reception in Mission Portion of San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—James Rolph Jr. last night addressed a crowded house in the Thirty-sixth Assembly district, where he was met by a throng of admirers. Rolph was literally covered with flowers and confetti.

After leaving this district he went straight to the Thirty-third Assembly district, and in spite of the showers of a regiment of small boys for the present Mayor left there an hour later with flying colors.

Later he went to the hall at Sixteenth street, near Mission, where he found a crowd of admirers and was greeted by the door and received a big ovation. Rolph told his neighbors and friends that he was speaking honestly to them and assured them that he would not make any false promises, as he wanted to be as true a Mayor as he was a citizen.

His remarks concerning the completion of the Mission street viaduct brought round after round of applause.

Yester morning he devoted five hours in the Potrero, where he received an enthusiastic welcome. He greeted five hundred workmen personally, with a hand shake and many words of his heartiest support. A little later he stopped at the Legat-Hellwig Tanning Company and a crowd of admirers greeted him there. He visited the San Francisco Glue Works just to show them that there was nothing "stuck up" about him. An enthusiastic crowd of men greeted him there and all along the line to the downtown district was the same cordial welcome. "If I don't know what I have spent a more pleasant day," said Rolph upon his arrival downtown.

CHECK-PASSER GETS 4 YEARS IN SAN QUENTIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—William Johnson, convicted of having passed a number of fictitious checks in this city, was sentenced to four years in San Quentin this morning by Judge Lawrence. The "check" man had been convicted that the prisoner had a prior conviction against him.

This afternoon Judge Lawlor will set the date for the execution of Joe Byrne, who shot and killed George O'Connell, while holding him up at Sixth and Brannan streets in November, 1906.

BEATTIE WILL TAKE STAND

ments in Paul's testimony before the coroner's inquest but the witness maintained that he was in poor mental condition when he testified.

"How did you know when the Beattie store closed that Saturday night when you met Henry and gave him the gun, did you have a watch?"

"No, I have not got enough money to buy a watch."

"How did you know?"

"Henry said so."

He told of a visit he had made to a pawnshop near a butcher shop, where he had worked. He went to borrow a dollar.

Paul insisted that Henry call him up on the telephone and asked him to buy the gun. Henry had never visited him socially since his (Paul's) marriage about a year ago.

"How long had you known Beulah Binford?"

"I did not know her except that I took things to her for Henry Clay Beattie Jr. for four years."

"Did you know Mrs. Fisher when Henry Clay Beattie Jr. asked you to deliver messages?"

NEVER COURTED MISS BINFORD.

"No, but I recognized her as Beulah when I saw her a few days ago."

"Then she did not know you except as a messenger?"

"No."

"You never ran around with her?"

"No."

"When you bought the gun you paid for it with a ten dollar bill, though Henry gave you a two dollar bill?"

"Yes, I wanted to change a ten dollar bill I had."

"Did you give any such reason at the coroner's inquest as to why you had paid for the gun that way?"

"You don't know what I said."

Henry's home on Thursday night after the murder?" asked counsel for the defense.

"I did."

"He never asked you before Thursday night to 'stick by him'?"

"He had no reason to, because he did not tell me until Thursday that he did."

"But you said you would not stick by him and would tell all, yet you did not tell all at the coroner's inquest the next day?"

"I hated to tell against my own flesh and blood, and I hate it now."

"Did you tell your grandmother or grandfather at Henry's home after the murder what you knew about the gun?"

"I felt sorry for them and Uncle Henry, too."

"You told your wife only about the gun, not the whole business?"

"No."

"Then you told her just enough to clear yourself?"

"I was not trying to clear anybody."

"When Henry called you on the telephone and asked if you had been summoned by the coroner, he chuckled?"

"Yes, and he laughed like a fool."

Cross-examination ended at 11:50 and Prosecutor Wendenberg took the witness on re-direct examination.

The prosecutor had the witness tell of his illness at the time of the inquest and how after his first collapse he was sent to the witness stand from the hospital.

SICK AT CORONER'S INQUEST.

"While you were on the stand before the coroner's jury and I was examining you," said Mr. Wendenberg, "state whether or not you had to be taken to a lounge."

"Yes."

"Did not Mr. Smith, counsel for the defense, object to cross-examination when you were in that condition?"

"He did."

Mr. Smith here interposed: "During the whole examination by me you never intimated that you wanted to stop, did you?"

"So your mind seems clear about that inquest."

The witness made no comment.

"Did you ever tell anyone," Mr. Smith continued, "that you were glad to get even with your cousin?"

Judge Watson here asked when Paul Beattie first saw the gun.

"On Saturday, when I bought it," answered Paul Beattie.

"You did not know what gun had been found? Did you describe the peculiarity of the gun very much?" asked Judge McMahon before you were shown the gun that was found?" asked Prosecutor Wendenberg.

"I did describe its peculiarities."

Paul Beattie was excused at 12:05 p. m., and Judge Watson ordered him detained at Chesterfield jail.

Frank Mason, next called, was the first witness by whom the prosecution expected to corroborate the story of Paul Beattie.

Judge Watson ruled that since Paul Beattie's testimony as to his acts had not been controverted or disputed there was no reason to put on corroborative witnesses. The prosecution agreed to hold its witnesses in reserve for any dispute as to Paul Beattie's acts and transactions as testified by him.

Harry Smith Jr. said in court that he intended to put the prisoner on the stand.

BEST MAN AT WEDDING.

Luther Wells, who was best man at Henry Beattie's wedding, testified that he was with John Sandifer and the prisoner after leaving the home of Attorney Smith the night after the murder.

"What did you all do when you left Mr. Smith's house?" asked Mr. Wendenberg.

"Henry said he wanted to 'phone Paul Beattie."

"What did you say to him after he 'phoned?"

"I asked him if he had got Paul. He said 'yes.'"

"Ask him anything else?"

"Yes, if he felt better."

"Did you go home with him then?"

"Yes."

"Anyone else there?"

"His father."

"What was said?"

"Henry told his father that Mr. Smith had all that the woman knew."

"What woman?" asked the father, and Henry said 'the same.' 'Son, I am sorry you are so indiscreet,' said the father as he turned away."

"What woman was meant?"

"Beulah Binford."

Judge Fetters here took ill because of the heat during recess and a physician was sent for, delaying the convening of court. Fetters recovered in a short time and the trial proceeded.

FORREST OBJECTS TO TONE OF NOTE

Commissioner Takes Exception to Commendation From Tyrrell

"The new charter foolishly provides that a note addressed to the city council by Senator Edward J. Tyrrell was suddenly interrupted while being read by City Clerk Frank Thompson, by the voice of the councilman John Forrest this morning.

I move that he be stricken out," said Forrest. The charter is a good charter and I am proud of it. It shall not be designated 'foolish' in this council chamber.

Forrest was one of the members of the board of freeholders to frame the new charter, and resented the somewhat patronizing attitude assumed in note read to the council. The communication was a refusal to accept the job of amending and codifying the ordinances to make them conform to the terms of the new charter. The city attorney, Ben F. Woolner, was authorized to expend $499 to have this work done, and offered the job to Tyrrell. Tyrrell declined with thanks in the following language:

"After devoting considerable time to examining the old ordinances, I find so many need amending to make them legal and in harmony with the new charter, that in my opinion $499 would not pay the expense of typewriting and proof-reading, particularly in view of the fact that the new charter foolishly provides that the section which it is proposed to alter shall be printed in full together with the section proposed to be adopted.

The matter was referred to City Attorney Ben F. Woolner and the letter was filed. It is possible that an attempt will be made to carry out the ordinance without obtaining outside aid.

M'CARTHY BUSY SEEKING VOTES

Tells Gatherings His Administration Has Been One of Industrial Peace

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Mayor McCarthy addressed several meetings last night in the interest of his re-election. The first was at the principal on Washington square theater. Powell street and Montgomery avenue, of over 1200 persons. The Mayor told of the new school houses built and the improvement of the city system constructed in his administration and promised many reforms if re-elected. He defied any one to say that every dollar of the $15,000,000 expended in his administration had not been used for the good of the city.

He also referred to the industrial peace obtained in the Greek American Hall poisoning case, among other things, that he had found 900 Hindus employed at $1.70 a day and that through his efforts their places had been filled by white citizens at $2.50 per day.

McCarthy also spoke to a crowd at Hibernia Hall in the Mission and to a large audience in the Greek American Hall on Polson street. Tonight he will address the Pile Drivers' Union and several McCarthy clubs throughout the Mission.

UNKNOWN GREEK HIT BY BERKELEY "LOCAL"

A Greek, name unknown, was hit by a Berkeley local train at Emeryville this afternoon about 1:30 o'clock on attempting to cross the track. He was taken to the sixteen street depot and transferred to the Receiving hospital where Dr. DePine found that aside from numerous injuries to the scalp and face, he was suffering from probable internal bleeding.

He is about 35 years old, but further than that his identity remains obscure.

Senator George C. Perkins.

Senator Perkins is home again, after an arduous session of Congress. Though somewhat feeble in health, he remained at his post during the extra session and kept a watchful eye on the interests of California. Notwithstanding the excessive heat, he was regularly in his seat and as regularly voted as the majority of his constituents desired him to vote.

He stood loyally by the President on the reciprocity bill and all other measures affecting the general welfare of the nation. He opposed all attacks on the protected industries of the Pacific Coast, which is to say that he remained true to his record and the principles enunciated in the last national Republican platform.

Unlike his colleagues, Senator Perkins did not wobble and oscillate between free trade and protection nor was he at any time found aiding the enemies of the Republican party and the Republican President. It is refreshing to note also that he did not apologize for being a Republican, and offered no excuse for remaining true to the system of tariff protection to which the Republican party has been committed since its foundation.

He is under no necessity to explain contradictions in his votes and course of action. Therein lies the difference between him and other Senators who were half Democrats and free traders while pretending to be Republicans and protectionists. His fellow citizens in this State will be glad to learn that he returns from his exacting duties in Congress as physically fit as when he departed for Washington in the spring, and that his record is not marred by any lapses from the principles which he has cherished and defended for half a century. At no time was he found colloquing with Democrats to thwart the President and break down the time-honored policy of the Republican party.

Therefore, he comes back to his constituents with a renewed title to their honor and affection. He has rendered them many valuable services, and during the extra session his clear, cool common sense shone in contrast to the inconsistencies in which his colleague became involved. THE TRIBUNE gives him welcome with the hope that his days will be long in the land. The example of a man who remains true to his pledges and his convictions is not lost on mankind, for in the end it is bound to shine with luster through the storms of detraction and the mists of passion and prejudice. Such a man is Hon. George C. Perkins, who has rendered California greater service than any Senator she has hitherto sent to Congress.

By all means let New Orleans send the first merchant ship through the Panama canal, but the first ship of any kind to go through should be the battleship Oregon. She was the first vessel of her class to steam around the continent, and she should be the first to go through the canal.

Collusion in Divorce Cases.

A district judge in Nevada has announced that he will not in future grant divorces unless the allegations made by the interested parties are corroborated. Evidently he believes that many divorce actions are brought by collusion, the parties having privately agreed to the terms on which the marriage shall be dissolved. The courts are thus made a convenience of by couples who have agreed to separate that one or both may contract new marriages.

Undoubtedly the Nevada jurist is correct. Many divorce actions bear on their face evidences of collusion, pre-arrangement and a mutual understanding between the parties. Often the proceedings are a mere farce, veneered with only a thin pretense of being litigation in the actual sense. Not infrequently the terms of the pre-arrangement between the parties are matters of public gossip and find their way into the newspapers before the petition is passed upon by the courts.

Now the face of the law is firmly set against collusion in divorce cases. Collusion is ground for throwing a petition for divorce out of court. And it should be so. But that is the law, and being the law this Nevada judge is quite right in refusing to grant divorces on a perfunctory and ex parte showing. He is right in demanding that the statements of the interested parties be corroborated. That is the rule of law in ordinary cases, and there is every reason why the same rule should apply in actions for divorce.

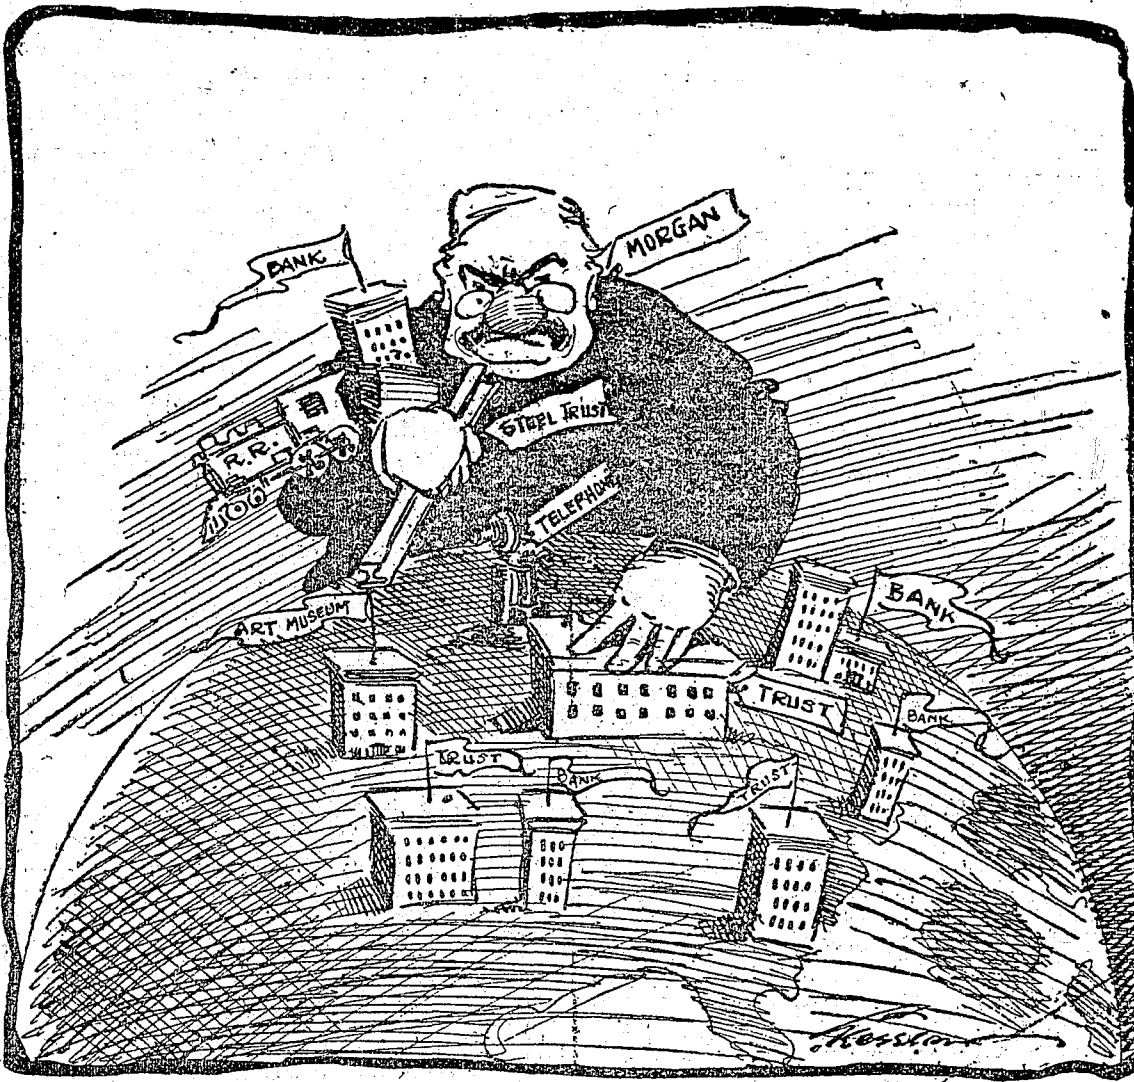

In no other class of litigation is collusion so likely to occur. The motives for it are obvious, the opportunities for it unlimited. The reasons why it should not be permitted are too numerous to mention. It is gratifying that at least one judge has decided to apply the strict rules of evidence in such cases.

It seems hardly fair for the Democrats to denounce Senator Bailey alone for their failure to carry the wool bill through the Senate in the form that it came from the House. Had Hoke Smith, the Senator-elect from Georgia, been in his seat the bill could have been passed without Bailey's vote. But Smith preferred doing politics in the Governor's office to fulfilling the Senatorial duties he was elected to perform. He would not relinquish the Governorship till he could put all who had opposed him out of office and filled their places with his partisans and friends. We have no liking for Bailey, but in this instance his conduct is not so blameworthy (from a Democratic standpoint) as that of Hoke Smith, who held on to one office while neglecting to perform the duties of another.

In one place at least the death of John W. Gates is sincerely mourned. The citizens of Port Arthur, Texas, have many reasons to hold him in affectionate remembrance. He did many things for the town, put his hand in his own pocket frequently to help out local enterprises. He endowed a Methodist college and was the principal subscriber to a hotel that is far in advance of the town's immediate needs. He contributed to anything and everything that had for its object the building up of Port Arthur. He made his residence there, and brought capitalists from all over the world to see the place and take note of the resources of the surrounding territory. He became interested in Port Arthur when he obtained control of the Kansas City Southern Railroad, which has Port Arthur for a deep water terminal, and he succeeded in making the town a place of importance. Every business house was closed on the day of his funeral, flags were half-masted, and a great concourse assembled to express sorrow at his death. Elsewhere Gates was classified as a financial buccaneer, but in this Texas town he was regarded as a benefactor. There must be something fine and noble in a man capable of inspiring such sentiments of affection as the people of Port Arthur exhibited.

The Los Angeles Express devotes a large share of its editorial space to lambasting President Taft and applauding Senator La Follette. It still clings to the notion that La Follette stands a chance of being nominated for President next year and hence can see no virtue in the President. It condemns the veto of the Democratic tariff bills in unmeasured terms. Since it is enamored with the Democratic tariff policy, one is at a loss to understand why it does not go over to the Democratic party instead of keeping up the thin pretense that it is a Republican journal.

Upton Sinclair's wife, who is being sued by her husband for divorce, says the author of "The Jungle" is "overdeveloped intellectually." She means probably that he is suffering from the complaint usually denominated swelldom. Others have thought the same thing.

AVIATORS' PHYSICAL TROUBLES

The increasing number of aviators and the development of aeroplane flying have given opportunities for making some interesting observations on the psychological conditions incidental to this new method of progression. Several factors have to be taken into consideration. Rising to a great height in the air produces effects similar to those of mountain sickness—namely, giddiness, nausea and headache; but owing to the rapid transition from a low level to a high one, or conversely, the blood pressure, if it is altered is not allowed sufficient time to become steady as it can do in mountain climbing; the conditions, in fact, have some resemblance to those of a balloon ascent or of an abrupt descent, and even more resemblance to what is seen in the case of subaqueous workers who are quickly brought to the surface from a diving bell, although in aviation the pressure are very much less.

There are also great variations with different individuals, for attacks of mountain sickness and other discomforts due to a change of pressure are experienced by some at a height of 1500 meters, while others are not afected until they reach 2000 meters. All the observations that have been made show that the blood pressure is increased, but only to a slight extent because it is counterbalanced by the free access of air which, according to the researches of Langlois, tends to reduce the blood pressure. Other factors to be considered are the duration of the flight and the encountering of difficulties. Nervous fatigue lowers the blood pressure and quickens the pulse. The nervous tension brought about by the necessity for being continually on the alert in presence of dangers has a special influence which varies according to the temperament of the individual.

The aviator Beaumont when he came down from his machine after having won the prize for the European circuit was remarkably calm and his pulse rate scarcely reached 85, but he told me that his great natural composure and his long practice in making ascents did not prevent him from having sensations of emotion and cardiac palpitation in moments of danger. As a general result it may be said that aeroplane flying does not cause any special form of illness.—Lancet.

ROADLESS RUSSIA

Russia is a roadless land. It is inconceivable to the foreign visitor who has ever left the beaten track of the railways in Russia how a great empire can have subsisted so long and so successfully amid the competition of the rival states beyond its borders without even a pretense at roads.

The secret, of course, lies in the fact that for five or six months in the year nature herself provides roads over the greater part of the expanse of All the Russias, admirable, smooth, glassy highways over hardworn snow. The traffic is further cheapened over these roads by the substitution of a sledge runner for the wheel and axle. This brings the cost of land carriage as near the cheapness of water borne freight as possible, and it is the principal reason why Russia, in the twentieth century, is still a roadless land.

There are some 44,000 miles of railway in Russia, and not one-third that figure of metalized roads! The roads are, even more markedly than the railways, which of late have begun to consider economic and commercial needs, strategic roads from the center of the confines of the empire. It is the intention of the council of ministers to set about remedying this defect, and it is hoped to remove it within the next decade. A beginning is to be made with European Russia only, leaving all Siberia, Central Asia, etc., for later. The proportion of lineal miles of roads to the proposals before the council of ministers is to be one to ten. In France the proportion is one to one, and in the worst provided European country it is not less than one to eight. Therefore Russia is aiming at much less than other countries already have, and for the most part have had for many centuries.

To make in ten years the 165,000 miles of roads required is one of those gigantic measures of reform comparable only to the agrarian settlement scheme on which the present government of Russia is steadily engaged.—London Standard.

IN THE MELTING POT

Is there such a thing as race suicide in America? More particularly, is there such a thing in St. Louis? We are of the opinion that the question must be answered in the negative.

Yet we have been somewhat strangely impressed by a glance at the record of births in this city for a period of 24 hours, the record being printed in the local news columns.

Of thirty boys born we find that only five of them bear names such as might have belonged to the men who came over in the Mayflower: Moore, Palmer, Donaldson, Douglas and Knapp.

The other twenty-five names are given in the order in which they occur in the news columns:

Rengel, Bluemier, Miklas, Fazez, Metz, Schermer, Schroeder, Herschner, Ornsteln, Engel, Brandes, Roper, Lada, Landsovie, Kerski, Brizius, Prochajov, Drosch, Kraus, Kampschroeder, Hildebrand, Prentner, Wereskouski, Koennebeck, Averbuch, Harte.

Yet, after a reading of these names, we reaffirm the belief that the best American stock is in no danger at all of being weakened. It never has been the breed that made for greatness in the United States. Almost from the beginning there have been many breeds, and all of them have contributed to the best stock in the country, because the institutions and principles which were stamped with the approval of the colonists are such that they always have tended to make a type of citizen which is quickly recognized all the world over as American.

As long as the sons of those people with names which are not wholly familiar to us can be taught that the state means much, and that the word means little, the work of the Melting Pot will be right.

"While I am not a candidate for President, and may never be," says Speaker Champ Clark. How modest and how wise these great men are!

SERMONS IN BRIEF

FINAL JUDGMENT.

(By Rev. H. W. Hewitt, pastor of Pilgrim Advent Christian Church.)

Text: "Except a man be born again he cannot see the Kingdom of God." John 3:3.

Our text is the strongest kind of an assertion, by the great Teacher, that a definite change must transpire in the individual, affecting his personal relations with God, or he can never be saved. Sin and guilt has been from the beginning primarily, a destructive element in the individual life.

Universal, and yet individual has been the consciousness of sin and separation from God. Personally responsible for our sins, we must each deal with God alone for pardon and cleansing. "Let the wicked forsake his way," and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him—and abundantly pardon."

John the Baptist preaching in the wilderness of Judea, cried: "Repent ye, for the Kingdom of heaven is at hand!" Challenging the hypocritical Pharisees, he demanded: "Bring forth fruits meet for repentance!"

Christ said to his auditors: "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish." Faith is likewise a quality which must be exercised by the individual. "Whosoever believeth in him might not perish but have everlasting life." "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." Every soul must seek for and obtain regeneration for itself alone. "Ye must be born again!" "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things are passed away, behold, all things are become new!"

No one can receive the "Filling with the Holy Spirit," the equipment for service, for another. At Pentecost the tongue of fire rested upon "each of them," and "they were all filled with the Holy Ghost." Character building is impossible without personal volition, the determinate choice of the individual heart. "Every individual the architect of his own future," one writer has aptly put it.

Each individual must pass to the final judgment before God for himself. The dearest friend on earth will be powerless to step into the balances with us in that day. "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad." "So then, every one of us shall give account of himself to God."

If, then, such vast issues depend upon our personal choices and relations to God, and must be settled during the swiftly passing days of our earthly life, let us give heed to the Spirit's call and "Seek the Lord while he may be found and call upon him while he is near."

CHINESE AS SAILORS

There is a growing disposition on the part of ship owners and officers in various parts of the world to send to China for complete crews. For most ships, particularly when first employing such crews, it is necessary to carry about a third more Chinese for the same service.

On the other hand, there are many officers and owners who claim that with such additional allowance of help a vessel is run more easily and efficiently, and that, all things considered, the Chinese sailor is the best all-around man aboard ship to be found anywhere.

He is adaptable from fireroom to galley, is industrious, has little or no desire to leave the ship in port, and, therefore, gives little or no trouble from drunkenness and desertion. As soon as they become accustomed to foreign ways Chinese crews are as efficient as and often more efficient than foreign crews man for man, and some companies pay their Chinese crew practically as much man for man as they do white crews and carry the same complement they would of white employees.—Consular and Trade Record.

TAMING OF THE SHREW

"The taming of the shrew" is not a profitable nor successful pastime in these days of independent thought. The women of the United States do not take kindly to such procedure.

Recently Raymond Pond, Ph. D., a Texas college professor, attempted to subdue a high-spirited bride. He maintained that man is the superior of woman, mentally and physically. When he married, he started out to demonstrate his beliefs.

His methods were brutally direct and to the point. He determined to break his wife's pride. It's hard to conceive how a man who had sense enough to attain the dignity of a doctor of philosophy could have so far debased himself.

Thus to flout all the traditions of the times can be considered only as evidence of mental obliquity as amazing as it was impractical.

Naturally, the young woman resented his methods. What woman would not? The wife of today is a bonnie companion, but a poor slave. The man of the time, as a general proposition, excels as a work horse, not a task-master.

After six weeks of treatment that is described as callously cruel, she left him. That was to have been expected. The professor, however, decided that he had been a failure, or she woke up to a realization of his rank cruelty. He committed suicide.

A few hundred years ago "taming shrews" was a recognized institution. English law permitted a man to beat his wife, provided he used a stick no thicker than his thumb. The size of men's thumbs varies. So do the sticks.

There is no legal wife beating in England today. There is none in America. The law recognizes that a woman not only has a right to her own self-pride, but it specifically protects her in the exercise of it. If anything, the leaning is toward the weaker sex. The man is made to answer in proportion to his superior strength.

This is as it should be. Woman has sufficient burdens to bear without adding thereto mistreatment by a muscular brute who desires to manifest his physical superiority upon his weaker but better half.—Seattle Times.

CLOTHES AND RELIGION

In St. Louis there is a minister whose church is composed of a middle-class congregation. The attendance at Sunday services was not what he thought it ought to be, and upon investigation he discovered, as he believed, that pride kept a great many people away who would willingly have gone to church if they could only have dressed as well as the average attendant.

That minister asked that the Sunday clothes habit be abandoned, and invited all to come to church, assuring them of a welcome in their working clothes if they had no others. We are told that the result of this St. Louis minister's investigation and action is satisfactory and that the church has gained in actual active membership and spiritual life.

As the spiritual aims and purposes of a church are to be taken into account, fine clothes in the churches are an impediment to religion. Vanity, rather than humility, is the atmosphere that one encounters, as a rule, and to make matters worse, vanity is rooted in long-established custom.

We say of a person who is dressed finer than usual that he has on his "Sunday-go-to-meetin'" clothes. There is no fiction about that, for the average person does not "go to meeting" unless he is dressed as custom dictates that he should be for the occasion. The church itself has helped to strengthen the dictum of custom and the person who has not the clothes but has the pride, stays away.

The fact that exterior appearances, except they be grotesque or indecent, should not any figure in church attendance is a sufficient proclamation of the truth that the St. Louis clergyman discovered, namely, that the house of worship over which he presided was but little better than a bazaar put to such frivolous use, and being put to such frivolous use, spiritual life and vigor within its walls was unthinkable and impossible.—Portland Telegram.

WITH THE NATURE FAKERS

In Bayonne, N. Y., according to Thomas F. Garrett, former chief of the volunteer fire department, lightning bugs are working with the unusually large flock of mosquitoes and light their way while they squeeze through window and door screens.

Garrett said that he saw mosquitoes and lightning bugs together outside his bedroom window late Saturday night. From another source it was reported that in the Third ward mosquitoes operated with can openers.—New York Times.

In searching for his baseball catching glove, Frank Pemberton, of Richfield, N. J., thrust his hand under the low step of his bungalow, at Orange Lake, thinking it might be there. Instead he drew a milk bottle. As soon as he saw its contents he yelled and dropped it. It smashed, and 39 baby copperhead snakes came hissing forth.

His yells attracted neighbors. But they didn't offer him any assistance, as, having found a club, he dispatched the poisonous reptiles. When they were all dead, and just as he drew up to take a big breath of relief and rest his weary back, the parents of the little snakes appeared, each four feet long. In the face of this greater danger, two friends, George Black and Raymond McCoddin, procured clubs and went to his assistance. It was ten minutes before the snakes were killed.—New York World.

Nothing looks more silly than a smile that is long drawn out.

HEART--TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN--HOME

SOCIETY

BEAUTIFULLY appointed in every detail will be the wedding of Miss Adella Darden and George Archibald Dardall this evening at the First Unitarian church in Berkeley. The Rev. Griffith Griffiths will read the impressive service and will be assisted by the Rev. A. M. Smith. The bridal party will enter the edifice while the Lohengrin wedding march is softly played. First will come the bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Hudson and Miss Ruth Stocker, the former wearing a pale shade of green-satin with overdress of chiffon, and the latter a dainty gown of pink flowered material made over white crepe. Both girls will wear bands of jewels in their hair and will carry effective armfuls of pink asters. The maid-of-honor, Miss Belle Randall, who is a stunning brunette, will be attired in pale blue satin elaborately embroidered and made with court train. She will carry white asters.

The bride will approach the altar alone and will make a charming picture in her robe of white satin, exquisitely embroidered and trimmed with rare rose point lace. Her long, filmy veil will be held in place by a Juliet cap of orange blossoms and she will have as her bouquet a shower of pure white orchids.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Darden, will wear a becoming costume of pearl gray poplin made with a train and trimmed with imported lace. Mr. Randall will have as his best man George Dillingham, while Harold Ashley and Stephen Otis will serve as ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony there will be an informal reception in the church and shortly afterward the young couple will leave for their honeymoon trip. In a fortnight they will go to Los Angeles county to reside.

The bride is an attractive and interesting girl and since the announcement of her engagement has been widely entertained. She is a graduate of the University of California with the class of 1909 and is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Randall and is also a graduate of the State University.

BACK FROM COUNTRY.

Miss May Coogan, who has been spending several delightful days at the country home of the Philip Clays in the vicinity of Mission San Jose, has returned to her home in Oakland. During the season Mrs. Clay entertains a number of her friends of the local exclusive set, dispensing hospitality in charming fashion. Her summer home is ideally located and planned for the entertainment of house parties and congenial groups of friends frequently are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Henshaw are babbling in their handsome residence after an extended trip, which included visits to all the interesting spots and places of scenic beauty throughout the northwest. They found the Yellowstone most attractive and lingered for some time in the renowned park. Mrs. Henshaw was formerly Mrs. Pearl Causton of Portland. She is possessed of a charming personality and will no doubt be one of the widely feted matrons of the fall season.

INTERESTING ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement of Miss Wanda

Marie Bryant and Thomas Hart Benton is of interest to a wide circle of friends of the young people. Both are well known, being members of distinguished families of Alameda. Miss Bryant is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bryant of Van Buren street. She is a girl of many accomplishments, is strikingly beautiful and has traveled extensively. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hart Benton and a brother of Mrs. Herbert Connor. There will doubtless be much entertaining during the next few months, with Miss Bryant as the inspiration. The wedding, which will not take place until winter, will be an important date on the social calendar.

The news of the engagement was told at an elaborate card party at the Bryant home, at which Miss Wanda McCord of Nebraska and Miss Kathleen Rogers of Santa Cruz were guests of honor. The house was beautifully decorated in red dahlias, which formed an attractive background for the dainty gown of the maiden and the matrons who shared the hospitality of the afternoon. Among those invited were: Miss Vera Benton, Miss Beatrice Zimms, Miss Josephine McCord, Miss Vera Howard, Miss Jessie Byrnes, Miss Bessie McFarland, Miss Charlotte Brush, Miss Anna Sealey, Miss Hilda Nelson, Miss Gertrude Gates, Miss Alice Jones, Mrs. Herbert Connor, Mrs. Frank Cleaves, Jr., Mrs. Edward R. Allen, Mrs. L. Parks, Mrs. N. L. Hall and a few others.

IMPORTANT WEDDING.

Percy Thurston Hincks of San Jose will claim as his bride this evening Miss Hazel Plummer, a former Oakland girl, now residing in San Francisco. The ceremony will be a home affair, attended only by relatives and a few close friends. The Rev. Albert Farnham will be the officiating clergyman. The bride will wear a handsome robe of white satin trimmed with rare hand-made lace and carry a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Mabel Pierce, as maid of honor, will wear white lace made over silk and embellished with pearls, and the bridesmaid, Miss Franc Pierce, will be attired in pink chiffon and messaline. Alfred Hincks will attend the groom. Mr. Hincks will take his bride to a country home near San Jose to reside. The wedding is of interest to a large number of the older families of this side of the bay as the Pierce family resided here for many years and was one of the most distinguished in the locality.

FOR BRIDE-ELECT.

Miss Hazel Plummer has asked a score or more of the younger girls to be her guests on Saturday afternoon, when she will entertain in honor of her cousin, Miss Edith Cameron, whose marriage to John Lafayette Irwin will be an event of September 14. A shower of dainty gifts for the bride-elect and a game of cards will be features of the afternoon.

HOME WEDDING.

A pretty home wedding of last evening was that of Miss Edith Cameron, Christian Benzig, which was solemnized at the Werner residence in Buena Vista avenue. The Rev. Martin officiating. Miss Emily Close was bridesmaid and Richard Werner attended the groom. Following the ceremony an elaborate supper was served and later Mr. and Mrs. Benzig left for a honeymoon trip to Shasta. Upon their return they will reside in an artistic bungalow in the Island city.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

An engagement of more than passing note is that of Miss Lois Van Winkle, a former Berkeley girl now residing in Long Beach, and Oscar Kettenbach, a young mining engineer, who was graduated from the State University with the class of 1910 and who now holds an important position with a large mining concern in Mexico. No date has been set for the wedding.

DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. E. I. Bartholomew was a dinner hostess last evening at her attractive home on Fourth street, making Mr. and Mrs. George Kruger the complimented guests. Following the repast an impromptu musicale was enjoyed and a dozen additional guests shared the pleasures of the evening. Mrs. Bartholomew is a gifted singer and numbers among her friends most of the distinguished artists of the local colony.

RETURN FROM OUTING.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter of this city and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Auzerais of San Leandro have returned from a delightful outing of a month spent at Glen Alpine and a number of other picturesque and interesting places in the region of Lake Tahoe. Fishing and motoring were enjoyed by the members of the party and the trip proved in every way an ideal one.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Williams of Berkeley were dinner hosts recently, entertaining in honor the birthday of Mrs. Margaret Dowd and Alex. Williams. Among the guests were Miss Alice Bingham of Salem, Ore., Mrs. Fernando Graham of San Francisco, Dr. Annie Williams and a number of friends and relatives on this side of the bay.

RETURN TO TOWN.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Haigh are back from an interesting hunting trip which they enjoyed near Healdsburg and from a visit at Skaggs Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Tickner have returned from a deer hunt in Mendocino county.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Salinger, who spent three months near Colfax, are once more established in their home in the Wagner apartments.

HERE AND THERE.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wagner motored to Blue Lakes and are now at their home in this city.

Dr. L. E. Carter of San Diego is visiting relatives in the bay cities.

Miss Emma Griebel of Portland, Ore., the guest of Mrs. W. W. Douglass of Park street, Berkeley.

RETURN FROM HONEYMOON.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Merrill have returned from their honeymoon trip and will soon be established in their new home in Berkeley. Mrs. Merrill was formerly Miss Freda Button and was one of the most popular members of local society. She will doubtless take an active interest in the festivities of the fall season.

FOR MISS FRASER.

Miss Julia Fraser, who has just returned from a trip to Portland, will be the motif of an afternoon tea which will be given by Mrs. J. E. Baker, planned for Thursday afternoon. Miss Gene Baker will assist her mother in receiving the guests.

Do Not Neglect Your Eyes

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright: 1911: By Lillian Russell.)

MOST women talk about preserving their figures, complexion, hair or kind disposition, but one seldom hears any one speak about preserving the eyesight or protecting the eyes, and yet they are the most beautiful feature of the human face.

Poets have sunk in all ages to "my lady's eyes," and one of the things to which medical and surgical science has brought its entire thought to bear is that of restoring sight. Notwithstanding this, the average woman is more ignorant in regard to her eyes than to any other part of her body. She habitually subjects them to unnecessary and detrimental strain. True, few women will sit in the glare of artificial or sunlight, but it is not to protect their eyes that they want to avoid this, but they wish to keep the light from their faces, which shows up all the little crow's feet, worry wrinkles and experience depressions. Some women will even be so foolish as to put belladonna in the eyes, forgetting that real eye beauty is expression.

The eye that lightens or laughs, that is filled with deep sympathy, is the one we remember as the beautiful eye, although its mere physical beauty depends more upon the size and elongation than upon the color. If the form is bad or the eye not set well in the head, no color can make it beautiful.

Deep frowning lines between the eyes give an expression of discontent, and the moment such lines appear one should begin to examine closely—not her eyes, but her heart—for the feelings which spring from the heart find quickest expression in the eye.

Bad eyesight, however, will often create this habit of frowning and no amount of massaging will remedy the trouble. If one continues to glower and scowl, the lines will grow deeper and deeper.

It is the optimist who goes through life with cheer and laughter, presenting a smooth face to the world; it is the optimist whose eyes are always bright and whose glances show the beauty of hopefulness and enthusiasm.

The eyeglasses of today are wonderful, their crystal lenses being fitted into very light entirely. Larkspur is poison if taken internally.

MA. (N.B.): Have you tried the deep breathing exercises for enlarging the bust? If not, write me again, sending stamped, self-addressed envelope, and I will send you instructions for a fine set of deep breathing exercises. To the girl with a small bust they are the greatest possible help, for they help frames which may be easily and securely adjusted to the nose. Great care should be taken in wearing glasses to adjust them properly. Most of us remember the dear old grandmother who wore her heavy gold-bowed glasses on the tip of her nose and persisted in looking over them.

Glasses should be worn as near the eye as possible. When an inch or more from the eye they are not only unbecoming, but are a strain, as the lenses are rarely made for focusing at that distance.

Styes are a frequent cause for eye trouble in children and also of older people. They are due to the irritation of the hair follicles out of which the eyelashes spring. They should be opened as soon as pus is formed and kept clean with a solution of boric acid, otherwise they may become quite serious.

There is nothing more beautiful than long lashes, yet few women take the trouble to brush them night and morning. If this is done every day, however, with a tiny bit of vaseline on the brush, one will be surprised at their growth. Be very careful not to get this vaseline in your eyes, as it will smart.

I believe most thoroughly in using an eye cup to wash out the eyes every day.

Remember, your eyes should not only see beauty in others, but show beauty to them as well.

to expand the muscles, and in time will surely enlarge the bust itself. If you will practice these deep breathing exercises persistently, I will warrant you will find a great improvement in a few months. The trouble with most girls is that they want to accomplish cures in a week, and this, of course, cannot be done. To make the eyelashes grow, rub nightly with the fingers, applying plain olive oil.

SAYS HUSBAND OF 70 HAS FOUR WIVES

WASHINGTON, Pa.—Charges including one of polygamy, are made in the statement in a divorce suit filed here by Mrs. Ada Thompson Keefe, young and wealthy, against her husband, David Keefe, a Union township farmer, 70 years old. The Keefes have been married but one month.

Two weeks ago the young wife, who was previously a widow with two children, alleges she discovered her husband had three other wives, from none of whom he had been divorced. One wife, she says, lives at Clairton, a suburb of Pittsburgh; another in Clarion county and a third, she thinks, in Ohio.

Mrs. Keefe, in her bill, avers that "kind neighbors" reported to her first two weeks after her marriage that her husband had another wife in Clairton. A visit to that town, she says, confirmed the report, a woman, whose name was Elizabeth Schnapp, informing her that she had been supposedly married in a legal way to Keefe.

Mrs. Keefe's investigation continued, she says, and Keefe's former matrimonial record was revealed. To cap the climax of her unhappiness, she states that about this time, when she informed Keefe that her fortune of $100,000 from her former husband had been left in trust for her two children, he drove her out of the house in her night clothing after abusing her.

SACRIFICES FORTUNE OF $2,000,000 FOR LOVE

DANVILLE, Ill.—Miss Helen Kimbrough, 17 years old, sacrificed inheriting a $2,000,000 fortune and brilliant social position for love of Leland Parker of Decatur, and she has been returned to an orphan asylum by her foster parents.

Eleven years ago Judge and Mrs. Kimbrough adopted the girl, whose real name has not been learned, and she was given every advantage. The judge is a prospective candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and the Kimbroughs are social leaders. Their adopted daughter was taken up and already was a favorite, though her debut was not to have been until next winter. The Kimbroughs have no children, and lavished every attention on the girl. In the short space of two months her life's fortunes have suddenly changed.

Last spring Miss Kimbrough and young Parker met at a social gathering here. Parker had come here for a short visit.

Muir will be the violinist. An interesting trio has been arranged by Mrs. E. H. Garthwaite, assisted by her sons, Edwin and Wymond Garthwaite. The affair will be one of the most attractive of the week.

WHEREABOUTS OF OAKLANDERS.

Mrs. A. C. Giddes has gone to Sacramento to visit the fair, and later will spend some time in Marysville, where she will be the guest of relatives.

Mrs. E. M. Allen is in San Jose and is being delightfully entertained. Earl J. Cary has returned from Nevada, where he has mining interests. He plans to remain for a short visit with friends in Piedmont.

MRS. HARVEY TOY HOSTESS.

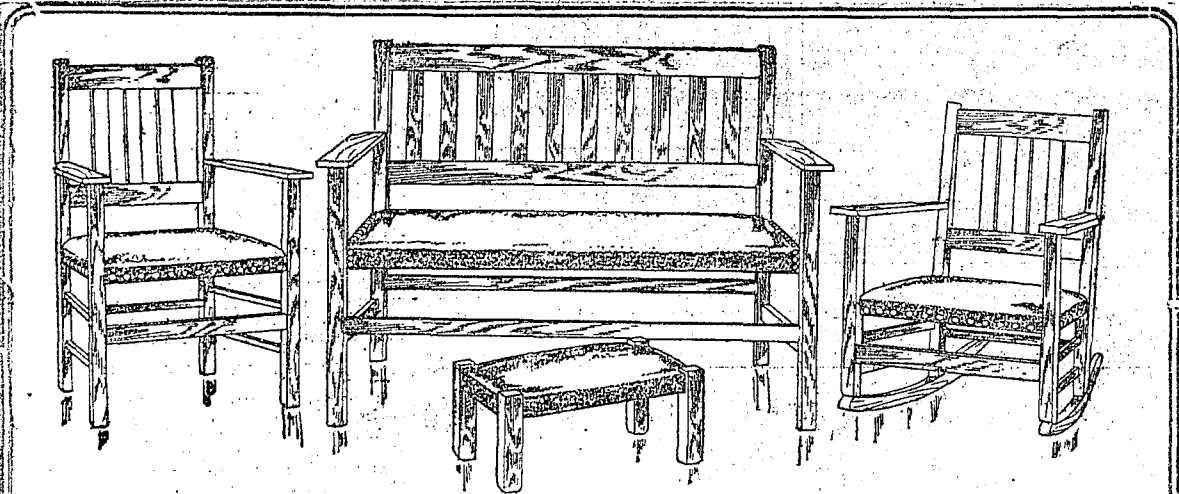

Mrs. Harvey Toy entertained the members of the Octave Club yesterday at her home in Grand street. Among those present were: Miss Mary Van Gordon, Miss Mary Sherwood, Miss Edith Foster, Miss Winifred Mastick, Miss Bess O'Connor, Miss Eva Gruniger and others.

NOTORIOUS FORGER AND SWINDLER IN TOILS

WANTED IN EVERY PORTION OF STATE

ISAAC RAINES IS MILITARY PRISONER

Surrenders in East to Elude Efforts of Many Officers From California

Ukiah Banks Robbed of Thousands and Berkeley Merchants Among Victims

BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—Isaac Raines, alias Edwin L. Butler, former San Francisco clerk and known throughout the United States as one of the most notorious forgers ever pursued by the police, and wanted in Berkeley for passing a fraudulent check for $30 on the manager of the Carlton Hotel, has surrendered to the adjutant general's office at Governor's Island, New York, according to advices received by Chief Vollmer today. Raines deserted from Ft. Russell, Wyoming, last January. Circulars describing him as a deserter were received shortly afterwards by Chief Vollmer, the description of which was the same as that of the man wanted for forging a check here. Vollmer, like police chiefs in every large city in the United States, was searching for Raines and was surprised to learn that he had surrendered.

Raines has served terms at Walla Walla, Washington; at Joliet, Illinois, and in two reformatories. Raines came to Berkeley and posed as an advertising solicitor, although part of the time he passed himself as a correspondent of the Associated Press. He stopped at one of the best hotels and claimed to be a member of the Elk's order.

When arrested in Washington in 1907 and sentenced to 10 years in the Walla Walla penitentiary, from which he afterwards escaped, Raines, who then gave his name as Edward Boyd, admitted that he was wanted in nearly every city of size in the United States and Canada, as well as in France and Germany for passing forged checks.

After residing for a time in Ukiah, Mendocino county, he established credit at a bank and afterwards sent there forged checks amounting to more than $14,000 from all parts of the United States and France. He forged many names on these checks, among them being Upton Sinclair.

He is also wanted in Santa Barbara and San Diego for similar crimes, under the alias of H. Brooks.

Upon deserting as a private from Battery E, Fourth Field Artillery at Fort Russell, Wyoming, in January, he took with him 21 battery fund blank checks on the First National Bank of Cheyenne, which he afterwards passed with forged signatures.

Raines gave his residence as 3429 Mission street, San Francisco, and requesting in case of emergency that Mrs. George Butler of the same address, whom he blames for his sister-in-law, be notified.

Raines was born in San Francisco 31 years ago and was once employed as a clerk. Among the many persons whom he has been in regular correspondence, according to the police, is Zick Abrams of San Francisco, well known in the sporting world.

ARIZONA DEMOCRATS WILL VOTE FOR STATEHOOD

SAFFORD, Ariz., Aug. 29.—At a mass meeting of the Democrats of Graham county held today to decide on party action on the question of accepting statehood and eliminating the recall of the judiciary feature of the constitution, it was unanimously decided to vote for striking out the recall provision and to pledge all candidates for every office and especially the legislature, to provide for the immediate replacement of the measure after admission to the Union has been consummated.

ITALIAN PHOTOGRAPHER FOUND DEAD IN ROOM

Pabelle Luigi, an Italian photographer whose business is in San Francisco, was found dead in his room at 1518 Third street this morning. The body was removed to the morgue and an inquest will be held. Heart trouble is believed to have been the cause of death. Luigi was a native of Italy, 53 years of age. So far as is known he had no relatives in California.

TAFT WILL BE GUEST OF THIS CITY FOR ONE DAY

Will Arrive in San Francisco About Noon on October 9 and Leave 9:40 P. M., October 11

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—President William Taft is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco at 11:45 o'clock, October 9, and he will remain here and in Oakland, until Wednesday, October 11, leaving at 9:40 that night. This fact was conveyed today in a message sent by the President's secretary to Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama International Pacific Exposition.

President Moore returned this morning from Santa Cruz and will confer today with the exposition directors in regard to the program and the study of a day

EDWARD L. BUTLER charged with being deserter from United States army, thief and forger.

HEARING OF PICARD FOR BLOWING UP HOUSE BEGINS

Police Officials Detail Results of Examination of Wrecked Place to Jury

Slow progress was made today by the prosecution at the trial of Charles H. Picard, in the criminal department of the Superior Court, who mined his house with bombs when he was ousted from the premises as a result of the divorce proceedings brought by his wife, almost killing Constable Al Kihn of Alameda and endangering the lives of several deputy sheriffs. Witnesses were scattered pieces of gaspings and other exhibits from the internal machine planted in a closet in the house. The bomb that was set off when Constable Kihn tried to get into the closet was made of a piece of gaspings and fragments of it were identified by the witness. Inspector H. E. Green, Captain of Inspectors Petersen and Detective McSorley.

UNIQUE INTERNAL MACHINE

The officers' examination revealed that Picard had contrived a very unique internal machine. He had wired a cocked revolver in the closet, with its muzzle pointing into an open can of giant powder. Connected with the can were the gaspings filled the powder. The trigger of the revolver was attached to the lock of the door in such a manner that by turning the key in the lock the weapon would be discharged. It was in this manner that the explosion which almost killed Constable Kihn occurred.

Among other witnesses examined late yesterday afternoon by the prosecution was David E. Waugh, a neighbor of Picard's. He testified that the defendant told him that he would "fix" anybody who attempted to interfere with him in his home. Waugh warned Deputy Sheriff John Reilly when that officer with Deputy Sheriffs Bert Brown and E. R. McDonnell and Constable Kihn went to the house. The witness said that Reilly did not take the warning seriously.

Testimony given by Minnie Homeyer, who lived in the Picard house, was to the effect that the defendant had repeatedly warned her not to go near the closet, in which it afterwards transpired was located the internal machine, and H. A. Petersen testified that in his presence Picard had threatened to "fix" them Robinson and Robinson and Harry A. Enroll, who represented his wife in the divorce proceedings.

Rosale Picard testified that there were no explosives in the house while she lived there. She is the divorced wife of Picard and he claims that she was responsible for all his troubles.

ADMIRAL TOGO SAILS FOR HOME

Hero of Japanese Navy Given Ovation When He Boards Ship at Seattle.

U. S. Cruisers Escort Vessel to Sea and Fire Parting Salute.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 29.—Admiral Count Togo sailed for Japan on board the steamship Tamba Maru after a trip around the world. He was given a great demonstration as he ascended the gangplank. Promptly at 10 o'clock a long blast from the whistle of the Tamba Maru told that she was ready to slip into the stream. Hasty handshakes were exchanged with the American and Japanese committees that accompanied the admiral aboard, the visitors hurrying ashore.

The demonstration at the wharf was insignificant compared with that given along the waterfront as the Tamba Maru, with Admiral Togo on board, moved out the harbor. Every vessel in the bay tooted its whistle, and factories on the tide flats joined in the noise making.

THE NAVAL ESCORT.

The steamship moved south along the waterfront three miles until she came opposite the heart of the city, then turned westward, joined with the waiting cruisers West Virginia, flagship of Rear Admiral Sutherland, and the Colorado, and proceeded toward the sea. In addition to the escort of the American warships, the Japanese organization of the city had chartered boats to follow the Tamba Maru until she had passed out of the sound, and the procession was an imposing one.

The West Virginia and Colorado accompanied the Tamba Maru until she reached international waters, when the cruisers fired a parting salute and headed southward, proceeding to San Francisco, while the Japanese liner, with Admiral Togo, continued her journey across the Pacific.

ALAMEDA COUNTY DAY AT THE FAIR

"Oakland, Where Rail and Water Meet," Is Slogan of Boosters Tomorrow

Enthusiasm over the excursion to Sacramento for "Alameda County Day" at the State Fair, which will be celebrated tomorrow, is growing and the committees having charge of the affair, under the general direction of L. W. Jefferson, secretary of the Oakland Real Estate Association, are much pleased with the way names are being added to the list of those who expect to go.

The special train leaves the Sixteenth street station at 7:30, and arrangements are being made to accommodate in the neighborhood of 500 people. The committee has planned to decorate the cars with flags and bunting, including a grand banner bearing the words, "Oakland, Where Rail and Water Meet." Each person on the train will be given a circular badge in the form of a seal containing a picture of the new city hall and the new Oakland hotel, surrounded by the words, "Oakland, California, City of Opportunity." 10,000 of these badges have been gotten out and they will also be used in Sacramento, to boost for Oakland. Jefferson, in arranging for the trip, has also had printed 2000 circulars which will be distributed both here and in Sacramento, and it is aimed to make the visit of the people from the east side of the bay one of the most successful demonstrations of the sort made in Sacramento.

The martial list of names of those who will go upon the excursion include people from Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, Richmond and all the outlying districts, as follows:

FAIR MARY TO GREET US IN VEIL—THAT'S ALL MISS GARDEN IN ROLE OF BEAUTY UNADORNED

MARY GARDEN, the operatic queen, in three costumes which have in the past excited more or less comment. Miss Garden now announces that when she comes back to this country she will wear so little that America will be astonished.

Operatic Queen Will Daze Americans in Near-to-Nature Garb More Perfervid Than the Sunny, Sultry Summer

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—From a sequestered retreat near Paris, Mary Garden, operatic queen, who has taken playboys of both continents by storm, issues the word that, in the role of beauty all but unadorned, garbed in a fluff, billowy 'chiffon veil and a winking smile, she will greet American audiences this season.

"In fact," she asserts, "I'll wear so little that America will be astonished." A hunt through the asbestos envelope for pictures of Mary, illustrating what not to wear, reveals her Salome as a good example of the pneumatic garb. In this she seems to specialize in "vels," a few tenuous strips being wound closely about her operatic frame. At the time this creation brought Mary into prominence, much to the annoyance of herself and her retiring manager, Oscar Hammerstein, the great international opera house constructor.

Perhaps the climax in her search for the ultimate nothing was attained on that memorable night in the Hotel Astor, when she appeared to sing for the professional woman's league. She had dressed in a hurry, she explained afterward.

A GASP AND A SHUFG.

Her costume was described by a reviving listener as a gasp and a shu of the shoulders. There was much discussion whether her garment was blue or white or gold. It was eventually decided in favor of the blue, as there wasn't enough of it to be both white and gold. It was on this occasion, too, that the famous back, depicted from neck to girdle, began its triumphant march through the press. All this, however, is to be outdone this winter. America will be astonished, says Mary. "It was generally believed that she might go to the other extreme and emulate the Eskimo this season, as somebody gave her 45 pairs of silk stockings before she sailed last June. But Mary has the original mind."

EVANESCENT DETAILS.

A modiste today when asked to outline a costume of filmy material that would shock Americans and yet not call out the fire department took a blue print from the refrigerator and said: "A simple enough gown on this order would be plain over a field of nothing gathering into a single panel and held in place temporarily by spider web pins. Gold-beaded cherry blossoms about to fall embroider the corsage and the back is fashioned after the famous Delaware Water Gap. A pretty variation of this is the Cuibra Cut, but it will not be fashionable until 1915. Melissande net trails unconventionally down the length of a vision's skirt and there is a decided hiatus at the right and left knees, where gossamer straps may be seen, by powerful glasses, holding in place one of the forty-five pairs of silk stockings. A small chiffon scarf prevents the wearer from taking cold."

Yes, as Mary herself said, this is America, and there must be chiffon. But if she will take a layman's suggestion for a high grade filmy and filmy costume there can be nothing classier than her own aura, visible to theosophists and described by them as a nebulous haze in the form of a distinct bluish-gray ring. This seems to fulfill all requirements.

SAY RICH GIRL IS AGILE RAFFLES

Accused of Jumping Over Air Shaft and Looting Apartments.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Jeanette Schosser, 20 years of age, daughter of a wealthy leather merchant, who lives in expensive apartments in Fifth avenue, is under arrest today charged with burglary. The police claim that the accused obtained access to a neighbor's apartment by jumping across an airshaft four stories above the ground and stole jewelry valued at more than a hundred dollars.

The complaint against Miss Schosser was drawn by Miss Katherine Silver, a young woman about the same age, who lives in the apartment adjoining the Schosser's in the next building. She asserts that at 11 o'clock at night, after she had gone to bed, she heard a noise in the dining-room. She called her brother, who found that a number of articles of jewelry had been taken from a table near a window. She saw a slim girl leap back across the airshaft from the window ledge.

17 Victims of Panic Buried in One Day

Nine More Funerals to Follow and Little Town Is in Mourning.

CANONSBURG, Pa., Aug. 29.—The first of the funerals of the victims of Saturday night's picture show horror took place here this morning and before tonight seventeen of the twenty-three who were killed will have been buried. The first funeral was that of George Kay, the 13-year-old son of Prof. R. H. Kay, director of music in the public schools. Throngs stood silently in the streets as the funerals passed, the scene being repeated almost every hour until the last of the victims was buried.

WHOLE FAMILY DESTROYED.

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio, Aug. 29.—With the death of Mrs. Nell Laird and her daughter Anna in the Canonsburg, Pa., picture show panic, the entire family met death in a series of tragedies. Three years ago the father was drowned in the reservoir of the waterworks here and a year later two children burned to death in the fire which destroyed the family home. Mrs. Laird, with the remaining daughter, then went to Canonsburg, where they were employed in a pottery until the disaster which ended their lives.

Detweiler Seeks To Clear Name

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—A motion made by A. K. Detweiler, the former telephone magnate, to dismiss the indictments for bribery pending against him, was submitted to Superior Judge Lawlor today, who promised a decision next Saturday.

The indictments against Detweiler were returned during the graft prosecution four years ago, alleging use of money in obtaining a franchise from the Ruel-Schmitz administration. Detweiler, in his motion today, is seeking to take advantage of the recent decision of the appellate court, which ordered the dismissal of the indictments against the United Railway officials because of lack of prosecution.

BENEDICT ELOPES TO BECOME A BENEDICT

LODI, Aug. 29.—Ivan Benedict, aged 19, a barber of this place, and Ida Pope, aged 16, of Harmony Grove, are missing, and the parents of the girl believe they have eloped. The police at Sacramento and points north have been asked to search for them.

COLONEL IRISH TO SPEAK.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Col. John P. Irish will deliver an address this evening in Scottish Rite hall, Sutter and Van Ness avenue, at 8 o'clock, when he will take as his subject "Knowledge Pertaining to the Anti-Suffrage Movement."

NOVEL DECREE IN SUIT FOR DAMAGE

Man on Front Seat Must Warn Auto Driver of Approaching Danger.

Woman in Rear Allowed Claim in Same Case by Washington Court.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—A decided loneliness promises to be the lot of automobile owners out for a pleasure spin with friends, if the supreme court of the United States declines at its approaching session to review the case of Chas. D. Henderson, who was injured in an automobile accident at Camden, N. J.

The automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train. Henderson sued for damages for injuries received in the accident, the court held that he, sitting on the front seat with the owner-driver of the automobile was under a duty to warn the manipulator of the wheel of approaching danger, and not having done so, he was guilty of negligence and hence could not recover from the railroad company.

At the same time it was held that a Mrs. Blockson was under no such responsibility because she was sitting in the back seat, and so she was awarded damages. Henderson insists that the principle involved in his case is of such importance that the supreme court should pass upon it.

VALLEJO WILL TAX UNMARRIED MEN

City Believes Bachelors Are Unfarned Source of Much Needed Revenue.

VALLEJO, Aug. 29.—Bachelorhood in this community is about to be an expensive as well as forlorn state if the plans of the city commission are carried out. It is not that the town desires an increase in population or wishes to force felicity upon the misguided young men, but the commission form of government is proving expensive, and in casting about for objects taxable the commissionaries concluded that if the unmarried were not going to support their money might as well help support the municipal undertakings.

BACHELORS TO SUFFER.

It was the report of City Auditor George Hildreth, showing the need for additional sources of city income under the commission's government, which prompted the commissioners to exercise their ingenuity, not the shortage in nuptials, for if the tax were to drive all the unmarried men into wedlock the purpose of the tax would be defeated.

Another scheme under consideration is to impose a license tax upon the business men, so that there would be more uniformity in the taxation and the burden would not be entirely upon the liquor dealers.

Finds 912 Pearls In One Big Clam

Hundred Large Enough to Sell and Fifty Are Perfect Specimens.

ADRIAN, Mich., Aug. 29.—W. H. Toms of Palmyra found 912 pearls in one Ralsin river clam yesterday. As proof of his remarkable luck, Toms brought the shell with the pearls to Adrian for market. Although many of them were small, fully one hundred were large enough to be marketable and at least fifty were perfect specimens of river pearls.

MARYLAND DEMOCRATS HOLDING PRIMARY TODAY

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29.—Maryland Democrats are holding their first statewide primary today. The Republicans having agreed on a complete ticket, will not enter the primaries. Today's contest will determine the Democratic nominations for Governor, attorney general, comptroller, members of the Maryland senate and house of delegates and the State central committee.

State Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, son of the late United States Senator Gorman, and State Senator Blair Lee, are the opposing candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Philip Lee Goldborough is opposed for the Republican nomination for Governor.

Wolverton's Men Confident of Landing on Top of Heap After Series With Beavers

IMPORTANT SERIES WILL BE STARTED OVER BAY TODAY

Portland and Oakland Begin Battle That Means Much to Pennant Hopes; McCredie's Men Get Off Easy

There will be eight weeks more of baseball in the Coast League and three teams seem to be the real pennant contenders, they being the Beavers, Oaks and Vernons. Beginning this afternoon Oakland and Portland will furnish the food of baseball for the fans hereabouts and the series promises to be the most important of any played on the local diamonds.

While Happy Hogan and his bunch are in second place and going great guns at the present time thousands of the fans refuse to take the Vets as serious but look for the real fight for the pennant to come down as being between Oakland and Portland.

As for the locals, they have a grand chance for the pennant and all Wolverton's men need to do to play the same brand of ball from now on as they have been playing for the last three weeks and nothing on earth in these diggings can beat them.

After that disastrous week at Sacramento the locals took a brace and began winning, and since then the record has been thirteen wins and six losses. At this rate Oakland looks all the best.

One can never tell in the uncertainty of baseball, but the odds are heavily in a determined effort on the part of the players counts for anything then keep you eyes on the Oaks.

BLOOMER GIRLS TO BE AT FREEMAN'S ON LABOR DAY

Crack Boston Lady Ball Tossers to Meet Local Moose Team on Field.

The original Boston Bloomer Girls' baseball team will be here to engage the Oakland Moose club at Freeman's park, Monday, September 4, Labor Day, 2:30 p. m. From newspaper reports the Bloomers play the real article of baseball having defeated most every strong team on their way from the east to California.

Six girls appear in the line-up, with three men, who pitch, catch and play with the team. The team claims the amateur championship of the United States. They have met and defeated 28 different clubs in 47 consecutive days during July of this year.

The Moose club has a good team and no doubt they will give the girls a good game.

ORVAL OVERALL WILL JOIN OUTLAWS AT STOCKTON

Stockton fans are celebrating the announcement that Orval Overall, the former club pitcher, will do the hurling next Sunday for Cy Moreing's Independents against Elmer Emerson's San Jose team at Stockton.

It is said that Cy Moreing has induced the former Cub back to the diamond again, and that he will win 'em over in his former style that made him such a favorite with Chicago fans.

Cy Moreing is building up interest in his new team, and is laying plans, according to reports of sticking another outlaw league next season.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. — Marquard permitted the Cardinals to beat two hits and Beavers stand two each, but Oakland has won 16 games and lost 11 with Mac's men. Here's hoping the Wolverton crew do as well if not better than the last series.

Walter McCredie's protest of the game on August 29 was also disallowed by Judge Graham. McCredie protested on the ground that Umpire Hildebrand erred in judgment in calling out Barry, who was running out of lines. With the protest disallowed the game will remain in the records as a victory for Los Angeles.

Oakland has signed a new infielder for trial in the spring in the person of Ellis Evans of the Antioch club.

Young Evans shows plenty of good timber in the handling of the ball and from what scouts have seen of him should make a good man for the Oaks.

JOE RIVERS SIGNS UP. — Joe Levy, manager for Featherweight Joe Rivers, yesterday signed a contract with the Orleans promoters to pit his charge against some likely youngster in the Southern city in October. The opponent will be selected from ten designated men, many of whom are well known in the boxing world.

DEATH ENDS HER
YEAR OF SUFFERING

Mrs. Nellie Madden Passes
Away After a Long and Painful Illness

This morning, at an early hour, the usual and ennobling life of Mrs. Nellie Madden, late wife of Frank Madden, came to a close after a year of intense suffering, at the family home, 756 Sixteenth street.

Death was due to a nervous affection during which the deceased struggled with courage and fortitude to perform duties to which she had assigned herself, and at the same time withstand the exhausting nature of her ailment.

The end came peacefully and the passing of the gentle spirit will cause a void among those to whom she had endeared herself by acts of kindness and benevolence and the display of the womanly trait of love for friends and home which distinguished her in life.

The deceased was a native of Boston, Mass., but came to California when a little girl and took up her home in Oakland with her parents. It was here that she was educated, being a graduate of the high school of this city. It was here that she was married and it was here, too, that her ten children, who survive her in sorrow, were born. She also survived by her husband. The other members of her family are Mrs. J. A. Connor, the Misses Maude, Clara, Hattie, Grace, Helen and Anita Madden, daughters, and Messrs. Frank, John and George Madden, sons.

The deceased was a member of division No. 1 of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society. She took a great deal of interest in the association by private benefices which she concealed from even her friends.

The funeral will take place next Thursday morning. The remains will be borne from the family home to St. Francis de Sales church, at the corner of Grove and Twentieth streets, where a solemn requiem mass will be celebrated for the repose of her soul. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Bible Class Federation Closes
Quarterly Convention with Speech and Song

With the adoption of a resolution petitioning the International League conference to be called by President Taft, to enact a law for the prohibition of the sale of opium, the first quarterly rally of the organized Adult Bible Class Federation of Alameda county, closed last night in the First Christian Church. The session was presided over by Gus Schneider, president of the federation, who delivered the address. The speakers were C. E. Gaudier, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of California, and J. W. Henderson, State superintendent of the Christian Science Federation. During the evening reports were read by Seth Joyner, secretary of the federation, and Robert Joyner, treasurer of the association. Musical numbers were contributed by Miss Hilda Johnson, Miss Esther Peterson and Miss Charlotte McKeeley in November.

The next convention will be held in Berkeley in November.

No Trace of Mona Lisa;
Louvre Is Open Again

PARIS, Aug. 29.—The Louvre was reopened to the public today for the first time since the disappearance of the painting "Mona Lisa." Every day entering the museum went to the salon Carre to stare at the vacant place on the wall where Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece had hung, and to discuss the theft. The police continue to follow the multiplicity of alleged clues to the whereabouts of the famous painting that has cropped up. A man carrying an object of a size or shape suggesting the picture has been heard from at nearly every frontier station in France.

Startling Phenomenon Interrupts Burial of One of the Film Panic Victims

CANONSBURG, Aug. 29.—As the casket containing the body of Stephen Mastowicz, ticket seller in the moving picture show which occurred Saturday night, was being borne to the grave in the Slavish Catholic cemetery last evening, lightning struck a tree under which the procession was passing and the six pallbearers were knocked down. John Hodge, a brother-in-law of Mastowicz, was killed and the mourners were panic-stricken. Hodge was not seriously injured.

The casket dropped into the mud where it lay in the party had recovered from the shock. A wedding in the foreign settlement seriously interfered with some of the funeral arrangements, and it was necessary to complete their work in the cemetery.

The graves for the victims had been started when the men were summoned to the wedding. Dropping their work they hastened away and when the funeral parties arrived it was necessary to secure other laborers while the people waited in the rain.

The funeral will take place next Thursday morning. The remains will be borne from the family home to St. Francis de Sales church, at the corner of Grove and Twentieth streets, where a solemn requiem mass will be celebrated for the repose of her soul. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

REMIILLARD CASE
SUDDEN ENDS

Agreement Reached Out of Court While Trial Is Progressing

After consuming two weeks in the trial of the suit, and while a motion for a non-suit, made by defendant corporation after the cross-examination of the plaintiff was under advisement, the case of Edward H. Horton against the Remillard Brick Company, involving a claim of about $42,000 for breach of contract, was settled out of court today. When Judge John Ellsworth went on the bench in his department of the superior court this forenoon to resume the jury trial of the action, announcement was made by Attorneys Sullivan & Sullivan and Theodore J. Roche, representing the Remillard people, and Attorneys Wright & Wright and Fitzgerald & Abbott of counsel for Horton, that an amicable adjustment of the controversy had been reached and a motion to dismiss entered. Judge Ellsworth granted that motion upon the understanding, and decreed that plaintiff and defendant company should bear the costs of the suit equally.

While neither the principals nor their attorneys would make public the terms of the settlement, it was learned from reliable sources that the Remillard Brick Company paid to Horton in cash $12,500 in full settlement of all claims against it. This money was passed to the plaintiff in the form of a check which Horton carried in his pocket at the time the motion to dismiss was entertained by Judge Ellsworth and granted.

The first overtures for a settlement, it is said, were made by the Remillard people. Horton was asked upon what terms the company would compromise, and after consultation with his lawyers he named the sum for which the check was drawn. There was considerable bickering over the amount, but the representatives of defendant company finally came to Horton's terms.

Several years ago Horton was employed by the Remillard Brick Company as manager at a salary of $500 a month, under contract for a term of ten years. It was also stated in the agreement that he should receive a commission on all sales made by the company. He had been in his position only a comparatively short time when the company summarily dismissed him, alleging that he was incompetent in the business and that his services were suffering materially by reason of his alleged mismanagement. Horton, however, continued to sign himself as manager and to sell shares of the company. Then when the opportunity time presented itself he instituted the suit that was settled today.

The program was arranged gives the boys four days in Oakland, October 4 to 8, inclusive. The first two days they will be the guests of St. Mary's College. On the second evening the visitors will give an entertainment, from which they hope to raise money sufficient to defray their traveling and incidental expenses.

The remaining two days of their visit will be devoted to a sight-seeing tour about the city, an afternoon at Idora Park and an athletic field day and a banquet at the Y. M. C. A.

Further details of the program will be determined upon next Thursday afternoon when the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of Brother Lewis of St. Mary's College, Calvin M. Orr, president Board of Education, B. B. Wilson of the Y. M. C. A., H. C. Capwell, president Chamber of Commerce, and George Dickie, president Playground Commission, will meet at the Chamber of Commerce.

WILL EXTEND ELECTRIC LINE

Tidewater & Southern Soon to Build From Merced
to Fresno.

The Tidewater Southern Railroad will extend its electric line from Merced to Fresno. No definite announcement has been made by the management, but a force of surveyors is working south from Merced. The road is headed by J. C. Lindsay, who directed operations for the Tidewater & Southern along the right-of-way secured north of Merced, and the extension is unofficially admitted.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the road last week it was announced that the first $500,000, which is set aside to insure construction of the first division, had been raised, and that there was in sight sufficient collateral to finance the entire undertaking.

The directors raised the price of the stock to $1.25 a share and elected Ward B. McInture of Fresno to a vacancy on the board.

Some features of the report presented at the meeting were of more than ordinary interest to the builders of the road. It was said that completion of the Tidewater & Southern would mark a new era in electric railway building in California. The report says:

"The average capitalization in a bond-issuing electric railroad is $60,000 per mile, while the Tidewater & Southern will be constructed for about $30,000 per mile. There will be no watering of the stock, no financial juggling and no middlemen.

"There has been agreement to the effect that not more than 20,000 shares of stock shall be sold or held by a single purchaser, and for this reason the control is so widely scattered that the Tidewater & Southern becomes, in some degree, a community project, with owners of the stock sharing their own products and receiving their own freight over their own railroad.

"The right-of-way has been practically donated, and more than 1000 stockholders have their own homes or places of business along the line. As a matter of fact, there are upwards of 1400 stockholders."

LOWER RATES FOR EXPRESS SHIPPERS

Wells-Fargo Co. Announces
Many Reductions on Different Commodities.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Upon the request of the state board of railroad commissioners, Wells-Fargo & Co. has made widespread reductions in its express rates. More than 100 of these reductions have already been made. These adjustments have followed the discovery that in many instances the company has been charging more for the shorter than for the longer haul. The identical rates for the longer haul have been in direct violation of the state constitution. The commission has called the attention of the company to this condition and the corrections have followed.

These adjustments are in no way connected with the general investigation that is to be made into express rates throughout the state. They are merely incidental to complaints received by the commission and a cursory examination of the existing rate schedules. The general investigation will follow.

STATE SHIPMENTS AFFECTED.

Among the most conspicuous cases have been the charges from Sacramento to points in northern California. In many instances the rate has been higher from Sacramento than from San Francisco, although the haul from Sacramento is contained within the haul from San Francisco. The rate on certain articles to Etna Mills from Sacramento, for instance, was $4.50, while the rate from San Francisco was $3. This has now been changed so that the rate from Sacramento is $2.80.

Similar conditions existed in and about Los Angeles. In many cases the charge was far higher for the shorter distance. This was found to be the case from points in the southern part of the state northward to the Ventura county territory.

UNCLE SAM SHORT OF ABLE SEAMEN

"Jackies" Appear to Be Fighting Shy of Cruisers on the Pacific.

VALEJO, Aug. 29.—Inability on the part of the recruits to obtain men for the cruisers now at Mare island navy yard threatens to interfere with this battle practice scheduled for this fall. Every cruiser at the yard is short-handed and the Raleigh and the Cincinnati, ready for sea months ago, have been held in idleness because of the lack of men. The flagship California is short fifty men in the engine room alone. Usual efforts are being made to induce men to enlist.

If you sit in a cool draft when you are heated and get a stiff neck or lame back, you will be looking for something that will ease the pain. For you need BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT and don't be talked out of it, because it is the best pain relieving liniment you can get anywhere. Price 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Wishart's drug store, 1001 Washington street.

MAN AND WOMAN KILLED.
PINEVILLE, Ky., Aug. 29.—In a revolver fight near here Carl Mirackie shot and killed Edw. Jones and immediately after killed Mrs. William Gibson, the only witness to the affair. A posse is now out after Mirackie.

Labor Day Excursion Rates on Southern Pacific Lines.

Commencing September 2, 3, 4, round-trip tickets will be on sale at all points on our lines and where the one-way fare is $15 or less. Rates will also be made to Sawtelle, Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Venice, Nevada City and Grass Valley; final return limit September 5. Ask any Southern Pacific agent about these low rates or call at our office at Broadway and Thirteenth streets, Oakland, or phone Oakland 162 or Home A-5224.

GERMAN SPY WILL BE GIVEN TRIAL

Lieutenant of Kaiser Under Arrest in England for Espionage.

PLYMOUTH, England, Aug. 29.—Philip Schultz, of the Thirteenth Hussars, stationed at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany, who was arrested here August 9 last, charged with espionage, was arraigned in open court for the first time yesterday and the department of public prosecutions made known part of the government's case. According to the public prosecutor, Lieutenant Schultz was especially commissioned by the German authorities to obtain precise information as to how far the British government was backing up France in the Moroccan dispute. Specific questions, copies of which were found among his belongings, were to be asked by Schultz regarding the naval preparations, the fortification of ports and the commissioning and reserve of ships, etc. Insistence was laid on the necessity of the information coming from the officers of the active list of the British army. A copy of the cipher employed by Schultz also was found.

Counsel for the prosecution asserted that the lieutenant had offered large sums to local residents to procure the desired information. The residents instead informed the authorities and in conjunction with them laid a plot to catch the alleged spy.

STATE GAME FARM MAY GO TO FOLSOM

Prison Commission Willing to Furnish Use of Large Tract of Land.

The State Board of Prison Directors has expressed its willingness to allow the State Fish and Game Commissioners the use of twenty-five acres of land in the grounds of the Folsom prison for the game farm. A feature of the proposed plan is that the trustees among the prisoners will be given the task of tending the birds.

The present location of the game farm is at Hayward, where the Commission has several hundred wild turkeys and Mongolian pheasants, which it is raising for distribution throughout the State. This farm is on leased ground, and the Commissioners say that they are encountering some difficulty in securing a renewal of the lease. They also state that they believe that the climatic conditions at Folsom will be better for the birds.

"We have been given to understand," said Commissioner Babcock yesterday, "that we may use some of the land in the prison grounds at Folsom for the State game farm, and we believe that the climate there will be better for the birds than at Hayward."

VERDICT OF GUILT AGAINST LAWSON

Boston Financier Convicted of Violating Anti-Lottery Law
Will Take Appeal.

PLYMOUTH, Aug. 29.—Thoms W. Lawson, the Boston financier, was found guilty yesterday of conducting a lottery at the Marshfield fair last week and fined $100. Lawson has appealed. Lawson, as president of the Marshfield Fair Association, announced before the fair that he was conducting a lottery. This was found to be the case from his farm would be given to the holder of some ticket. Fifteen thousand tickets were distributed, and a ticket bearing the number of the winner was drawn at the close of the fair.

THINKS BROTHER IS DEER; SHOOT

Tragedy of Piute Mountains
Results in Death of Bakersfield Man.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Aug. 29.—Mistakenly, his brother, Henry, for a deer, Charles Ward yesterday shot him dead, while the two were hunting in the Piute mountains, thirty miles from here. The brothers were beating the brush on a steep, exposed slope of a canyon when Charles caught sight of Henry and fired. The coroners' jury last night returned a verdict of accidental shooting.

WANT WILEY TO DECIDE 'WHAT IS GREEN ORANGE?'

OROVILLE, Aug. 29.—Unless a more definite ruling can be obtained from Dr. Wiley relative to what constitutes a green orange, the rich holiday trade of the Eastern markets may be closed to the growers of Northern California, according to a statement made today by D. C. Hill, secretary of the Butte County Citrus Association. A serious situation has developed as a result of the indefinite character of Dr. Wiley's ruling. Dr. Wiley has decreed that green oranges must not be sold. He recognized, however, in his ruling that the fruit of the orange tree may be ripe enough for the market while the color of the peel is yet green. The growers fear that they may send fruit to the East, only to find that each inspector has a different opinion and that, as a consequence, unless the oranges are allowed to fully mature upon the trees, there will be a heavy loss for them.

BIG ORANGE ORCHARD.
LINDSAY, Aug. 29.—Albert H. Johnson of Alhambra has just purchased forty acres of bare land in the O'Hara tract, two miles southeast of town, the price paid being $225 per acre. Mr. Johnson will at once move here and commence the improvement of the land, which will be planted to oranges next spring.

STANFORD FRESHMAN FALLS FROM WINDOW

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 29.—Woodville Stuart, a freshman, who came to Stanford from San Jose, fell from a two-story window at the home of Mrs. P. A. Gossett, in Palo Alto, breaking his hip and arm. When Mrs. Gossett arrived the boy was unconscious, and remained so for an hour. Stuart had come to the university intending to make his way through college by doing odd jobs. He had secured work from Mrs. Gossett and was washing the upstairs windows. He became dizzy, lost his balance, and fell 30 feet. He was taken to his home in San Jose in a critical condition. His condition is slightly better today, but he is not yet out of danger.

MOVE FOR LIBERTY LOST. BY LONG-TERM BURGLAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—John Smith, a burglar who was sentenced to a term of fifty years in Folsom penitentiary as a habitual criminal in 1906 by Judge Carroll Cook of the Superior Court, lost one of his last hopes for regaining his liberty yesterday, when the Supreme Court denied his petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Smith was arrested in 1905, charged with having assaulted Mrs. Lena Wilson of this city and robbing her of $50. Pending his trial came the fire, and in the conflagration the papers of information were destroyed. Later Smith was found guilty of the crime, Assistant District Attorney Jesse Hunt presenting the information against him from memory. Smith's attorneys recently asked for the writ on the ground that the interval of time allowed by the law between the time of filing the information and the time of the trial elapsed in Smith's case and that he was not granted a trial with the speed demanded by the statutes.

TERMINAL RATES HEARING INDEFINITELY DELAYED

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Aug. 29.—The hearing of the petition of the Santa Rosa Traffic Association for terminal rates has been postponed indefinitely by Interstate Commerce Commissioner Franklin K. Lane on account of the absence of Attorney Lathrop, who was to have presented the case of the local organization. The matter will be heard later before an examiner.
